

Dr Darren Moroney

Darren is a registered psychologist, academic, and nationally accredited mediator.

Currently based at the Family Mediation & Conflict Resolution Clinic in UWA's Law School, Darren conducts conflict resolution processes across a range of matters, including workplace, community, family, and Court-referred Restraining Order matters.

Darren is a trainer for UWA and AIFLAM's professional NMAS course, as well as UWA's FDRP course. He has provided training and consultation to numerous businesses, organisations, and departments, including the CCC, WA Police, Australian Federal Police, WA Children's Court, State Administrative Tribunal, Aboriginal Mediation Service, DMIRS, WA Department of Education, Federal Court Judiciary, and Anglicare.