2025–2026 Excellence Awards

SUBMISSION CRITERIA

About the awards

The Australian Energy Producers Excellence Awards recognise leadership and innovation across Australia's upstream oil and gas sector. They celebrate initiatives that deliver measurable improvements in environmental stewardship, community and social investment, innovation and technology, and safety and wellbeing.

From 2026, the Awards have been streamlined into four categories, each focused on a specific area of upstream petroleum operations.

To improve visibility and encourage the sharing of leading practices across the sector, Australian Energy Producers will showcase award recipients and their achievements through multiple channels – including presentations at the annual Conference, digital features and industry webinars.

This document provides information to support the submission process, which runs from Thursday 29 January 2026 to close of business (AWST) on Friday 13 March 2026.

AEP Excellence Award Categories

The AEP Excellence Awards celebrate members' achievements across four categories reflecting our industry's commitment to excellence and leadership.

Members are invited to submit nominations for one or more of the following categories:

Environmental Stewardship

Recognises excellence in advancing sustainable practices and environmental protection in the oil and gas sector

Community and Social Investment

Celebrates innovative projects that deliver lasting social and economic benefits to communities

Innovation and Technology

Showcases the development and application of new technologies or leading approaches that drive progress in the oil and gas sector

Safety and Wellbeing

Honours initiatives that demonstrate exceptional commitment to protecting the health, safety and wellbeing of people in the workplace

AEP Excellence Award Selection criteria

A single, consistent selection framework will be applied across all award categories, built around seven core elements of excellence.

Projects nominated for Excellence Awards will be evaluated against the following selection criteria:

Leadership and culture	Risk management and assurance	Innovation and continuous improvement	Strategic alignment with AEP priorities
Demonstrates how leadership, governance and organisational culture influences project design and delivery.	Shows effective risk management and assurance processes to validate outcomes and maintain integrity.	Highlights innovative technologies or approaches that deliver efficiency, sustainability or social benefits.	Shows how the project supports AEP's advocacy, influence, public awareness and member engagement.
Objectives, outcomes and impact	Stakeholder contributions and meaningful engagement	Insights and knowledge sharing
Defines clear goals, measures results, and demonstrates measurable and lasting outcomes.	Demonstrates meaningful engagement and collaboration with stakeholders to improve outcomes and build trust.	Provides evidence of lessons learned and knowledge shared across the organisation or sector.

Assessment process

Submissions will be assessed by a panel of judges.

Panel members will be required to declare any actual or potential conflicts of interest. Where a conflict of interest is identified, the relevant judge will step aside from the assessment of the affected nomination(s).

If the panel is unable to reach a consensus, additional assessors may be engaged to review the relevant submissions before a final decision is made.

The judging panel has full discretion in determining the outcomes of the Excellence Awards. Australian Energy Producers reserves the right not to award category winners in any given year.

How to apply

- 1 Review the award categories on page 4 to determine which category best suits your nomination. Member and associate member organisations may submit multiple applications across any categories of their choice. You can save your submission at any stage and return to complete it later.
- 2 Visit here to download the application form.
- 3 Prepare the application form for the relevant award and include evidence to support your nomination. Structure your application using the selection criteria subheadings outlined on page 5. The written component should not exceed 2,000 words, excluding supporting documentation.
- 4 A representative of the organisation with appropriate authority should review the awards' terms and conditions before submitting an application. These are available on the application form and can also be downloaded here.
- 5 Gather appropriate supporting material to accompany your submission. Additional collateral such as imagery (a minimum of six images is required), video, graphics, reports, brochures, and publications should be included to strengthen your nomination.
- 6 Upload the required images to an online platform such as Flickr or Dropbox, and include the access link in your application.
- 7 Prepare a summary of 50 words describing the project being nominated.
- 8 Go to the online submission portal and complete the online form. Attach the application form, including the 50-word project summary and an 8-word project description, along with any supporting documentation. This should include the link to the required images, as well as any relevant videos, brochures, or website links.
- 9 Once your submission has been completed online, you will receive an email confirmation.
