

Sex Workers: Lessons from New Zealand

Catherine Healy DNZM

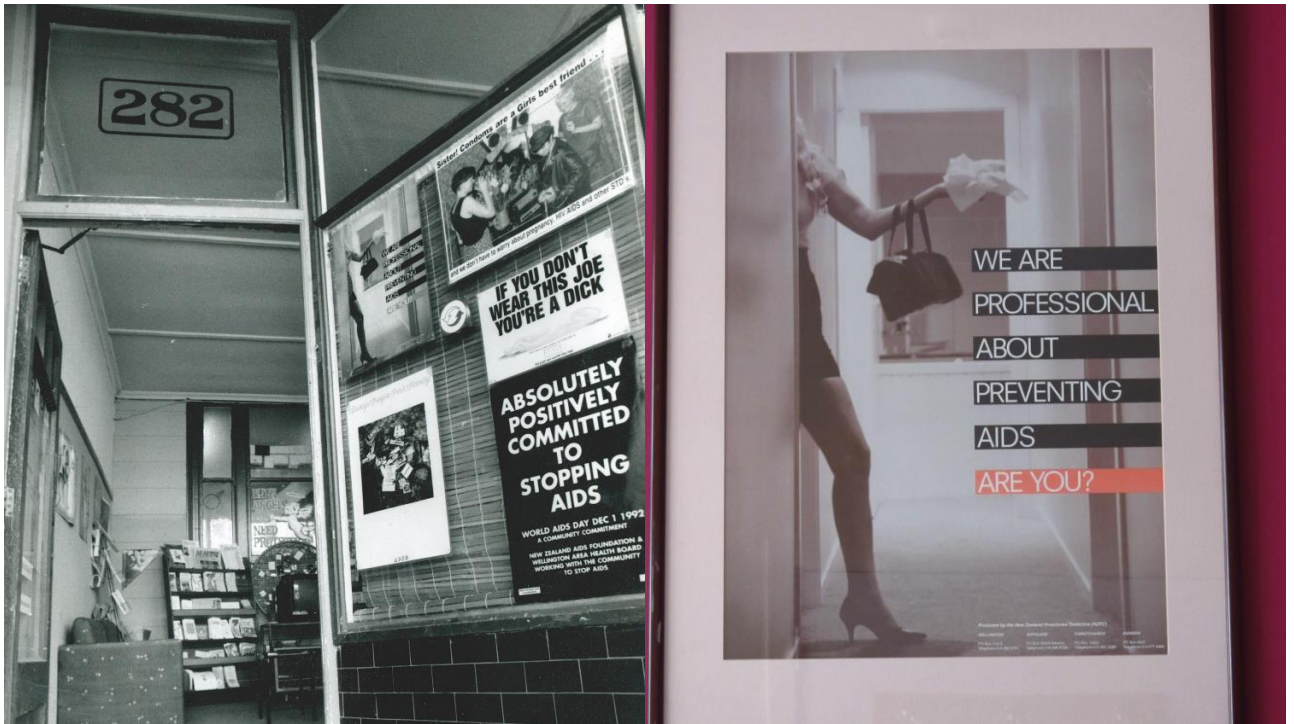

IUSTI Asia Pacific Sexual Health Congress

Symposium 3: Cross Stream Session

Sex Work: Identifying Current Issues and Gaps and Future Directions

Disclosure of Interest

NZPC contracts to The Ministry of Health

Police help short-changed sex worker

13 Jul, 2014 10:51am

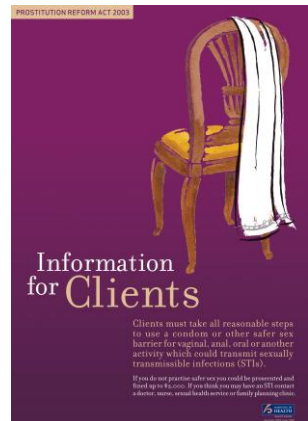

© 2 minutes to read

All in a day's work. Police drove the man home to get his wallet, taking him to an ATM and then delivering the cash to the worker. Photo / File

By Kirsty Wynn
Reporter, NZ Herald
kirsty.wynn@nzherald.co.nz

Information for Clients

Clients must take all reasonable steps to use a condom or other safer sex barriers for vaginal, anal, oral or another activity which could transmit sexually transmissible infections (STIs).

If you do not practice safer sex you could be prosecuted and fined up to $5,000. If you think you may have an STI contact a doctor, nurse, sexual health service or family planning clinic.

Police resolved a dispute between a sex worker and a client who refused to pay — by escorting the man to a cash machine to settle his $100 bill.

The client had refused to pay the woman who had been working on Maich Rd in Manurewa, South Auckland, on Thursday night.

Police settled the matter by driving the man home to get his wallet, taking him to an ATM and then delivering the cash to the worker.

Prostitutes Collective Auckland co-ordinator Annah Pickering was checking on prostitutes in the area and was amazed to see the exchange unfold. "I was parked up and saw it all happen like a movie," Pickering said. "We have heard of this happening in the city anecdotally, but to see it happen in front of you is one in a million."

New Zealand World Politics Pacific Te Ao Māori Sport Business Country Comment & Analysis

NEW ZEALAND

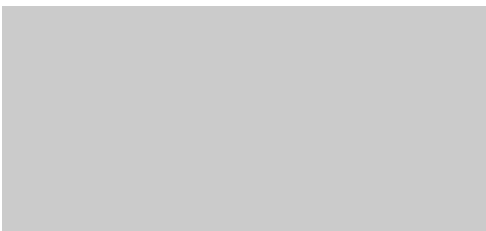

NZ sex workers undercut by illegal foreign prostitutes

5:12 pm on 31 May 2018

Share this Twitter Facebook LinkedIn Reddit StumbleUpon

Gill Bonnett, Reporter gillian.bonnett@radioz.co.nz

A wave of foreign prostitutes working in breach of their visas is taking work from locals, sex workers say.

Newstalk ZB RADIO SPOT LISTEN LIVE

NEWS ON AIR ON DEMAND OPINION WHAT'S ON COMPETITIONS LIFESTYLE PHOTOS WEATHER TRAFFIC CONTACT REGION Auckland

EARLY EDITION MIKE HOSKING BREAKFAST LEIGHTON SMITH SHOW ANDREW DICKENS AFTERNOONS LARRY WILLIAMS DRIVE SPORTSTALK MARCOS LUH RIGHTS OVERNIGHT TALK THE Z

LARRY WILLIAMS DRIVE
4p.m. - 7p.m.
LISTEN LIVE

Revealed: Illegal sex workers access million-dollar health programme
 Lincoln Tan, NZ Herald, National, Thursday, 31 May 2018, 7:34a.m.

CONNECT WITH NEWSTALK ZB Facebook Twitter
SIGN UP FOR NEWSLETTERS

...ers in central Auckland are complaining of problems plaguing ce

ADVERTISEMENT

JALCON
HOMES

START DESIGNING YOUR HOME NOW

Advertiser with NZME.

NEW ZEALAND

Street sex workers: Christchurch's 'disposable population'

19 Jul, 2018 8:05pm

© 6 minutes to read

One outreach worker described a 19-year-old worker who was "gang-raped and dumped away from Manchester St." Photo / File

Christchurch Star

Trending Topics

- Fair care? A health investigation
- Duke and Duchess of Sussex royal tour
- Wyatt Crockett book
- Jamal Khashoggi killing

ADVERTISEMENT

We love your work!

FIND YOUR LOCAL OPD

OFFICE OF PRODUCTIVITY

www.opd.co.nz

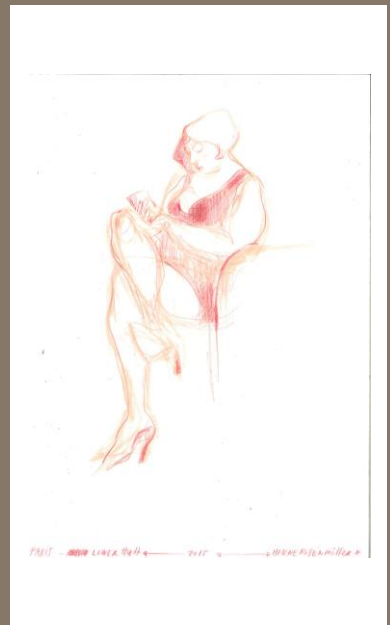

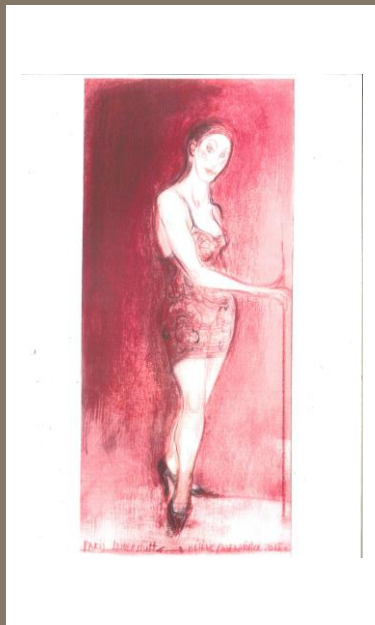

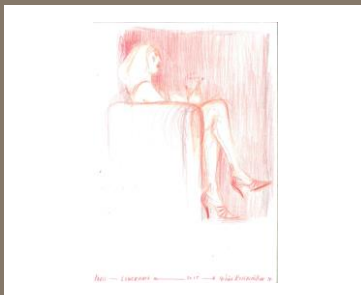

Latest from NZ

NEW ZEALAND

More near-misses: Godfender safety report

25 Oct, 2018 10:26am

NEW ZEALAND

New Zealand Prostitutes' Collective | New Zealand Sex Workers' Collective