

SIMPLIFICATION OF HBV TREATMENT TO REACH EVERYONE – WHAT TOOLS DO WE NEED TO ENGAGE ABORIGINAL AND TORRES STRAIT ISLANDER AND CALD COMMUNITIES?

Jane Davies, Menzies School Of Health Research

Many myths and inaccuracies about chronic hepatitis B are still prevalent and it can sometimes still be dismissed as too complex or too difficult by the healthcare community. People living with chronic hepatitis B and health care professionals caring for them often struggle to access clear, simple information to support sustainable delivery of gold standard care. I will discuss the NT approach to try and overcome these issues and enable everyone living with chronic hepatitis B to access the care they need.
