3 & 4 July 2026 | InterContinental, Brisbane

Zoonoses and the Future of Health for All -
The Cost of Not Listening

ASID Zoonoses Conference 2026 Poster Abstract Submission Guidelines

Abstract Submission Opens: 28th January 2026

Abstract Submission Deadline: Midnight (AEST) Thursday 23rd April 2026

The main theme for ASID Zoonoses 2026 is: "Zoonoses and the future of health for all - The cost of not listening"

Abstracts considered for the conference must have a zoonosis(es) as the central theme. Diseases with shared environmental epidemiology between humans and animals will be considered, but preference is given to those diseases with animal reservoirs or shared infection with humans. Discussion and acknowledgment of both the veterinary and medical aspects of the disease is expected.

Abstract and author details must be submitted online using the ASID Zoonoses 2026 Abstract Submission Portal

- Abstracts should be thoroughly checked for spelling and grammar. No editing will be conducted on behalf of authors and abstracts will be published as submitted. Edits to abstracts will not be permitted after submissions have closed.
- An abstract must be submitted by the presenting author and only the presenting author's contact details should be used in the submission form
- Abstracts must be prepared in accordance with the guidelines below
- The panel will shortlist abstracts that are suitable for a 15-minute oral presentation. If you do not wish to be selected for an oral presentation, please indicate this during the submission process.
- Oral presentations and posters will be judged by a panel of ZooSIG committee members during the conference. There will be prizes for the best presentations in both categories.
- By submitting an abstract, the author automatically allows ASID to publish their abstract on the ASID website in the members area and in any format appropriate for the delivery of the program for the meeting.
