

National Directory of Services for people who use violence

Coming in 2026

Let's build something powerful—together.

No to Violence is creating a National Directory to help people and professionals find support services for those using violence. Service coverage will be inclusive and comprehensive, also including services that address intersecting issues and needs.

If your service works with people who use or may use violence, we want to hear from you.

Eligible services include, but not limited to:

- Behaviour change programs
- Counselling & mental health support
- Parenting & relationships support
- Information & referral helplines
- Legal services
- Financial services
- Drug & alcohol
- Housing
- Gambling
- Migration & settlement
