Message from Distilled Spirits Aotearoa and Spirits New Zealand

This is the third year of the New Zealand Spirits Awards, and once again the number of entries has surpassed all our expectations. While the number of International entries has remained steady, there has been a 100% increase in New Zealand entries since our inaugural year of 2019.

The world is a far different place compared to two years ago. We know that we have lost at least three New Zealand distilling businesses to COVID but compared to the rest of the world we have been relatively unscathed. This doesn't mean that the impacts of the last 18 months have not left deep scars. Globally distillers have had to make huge sacrifices, and they would not still be in business if they did not carry a great passion for the industry and the product they are crafting. We can celebrate the fact that even through this hardship there is a continuing desire to make high quality spirits, and by entering these awards show them off to New Zealand and the world.

The success of the spirits industry in New Zealand has wider ripples, and we are happy to see supporting industries joining in the growth. We have had a record number of sponsors this year, generous in their support and sharing our passion for spirits.

With closed borders, we are once again extremely fortunate to have a strong pool of experienced, world standard judges in New Zealand. Our talented judges have again been very generous in donating their time to participate in three days of intensive sensory work-out.

The New Zealand Spirits Awards aims to benchmark our local products against overseas imported spirits. Consumers can benefit from knowing they are drinking a gold medal New Zealand-born spirit, aligned with global quality. We are extremely proud to bring you this latest round of world class medal winning spirits available on the New Zealand market.

Message From the Head Judges

It's been a privilege to serve the New Zealand spirits community once again this year, as we celebrate the third year of the NZ Spirits Awards. In particular, the growth in New Zealand distillers and locally made spirits shows significant expansion of the industry here. It's an honour to assess the high calibre of entries alongside a panel of diverse, experienced and passionate judges who each bring unique skills and perspectives to the process. It is with thanks to this group of people who give their talents and time freely to support the industry, alongside the organisers and supporters of the event that we gather around a table of meticulously crafted spirits. Without the efforts of Distilled Spirits Aotearoa, Spirits NZ and supporting partners, it would not be possible to keep the glasses filled! These awards mark a significant place in the NZ Spirits landscape as we not only reward and acknowledge the work of distillers and their craft but also what it means for consumers who get to raise their glasses and enjoy the best of the best.
