Alex Breckler Head of Technology | CBN

Alex Breckler brings over 16 years of technology industry experience to his role. His career began as a Level 1 Support Technician at one of the founding companies that merged to create CBN, offering him a unique insight into the company's technological evolution.

Since rejoining CBN in 2016, Alex has advanced through several pivotal leadership positions, including Service Manager and Delivery Manager, before being appointed CBN Head of Technology in early 2025.

In recent years, cybersecurity has become a central focus of Alex's responsibilities due to the increasing threats facing all businesses.

Leveraging his extensive operational background and current oversight of CBN's cyber risk strategy, Alex is now at the forefront of discussions on how businesses can enhance their cyber resilience.
