INVITATION

The largest, most influential local government conference in Australia occurs just once a year.

The Australian Local Government Association's National General Assembly, held in Canberra, attracts representatives from Australia's 537 councils spread across all states and territories.

These councils employ more than 200,000 people and manage non-financial assets valued at around $640 billion. They provide an extensive range of services to residents and ratepayers – from pools, libraries, children's playgrounds, and youth drop-in centres, to housing and community amenities, local roads and bridges.

Councils also administer large procurement programs; they contract out services to large and small providers, maintain extensive equipment assets, and run substantial vehicle, road-making and landscape maintenance fleets.

The National General Assembly provides a unique opportunity for service and asset providers to engage with the people who direct this spending – mayors, councillors and CEO's.

This can be done either by sponsoring the event or by becoming an exhibitor.

To meet the people who influence how and where local government spends its multi-billion dollar yearly budgets all in one place is rare.

The National General Assembly offers unparalleled one-on-one access to the most influential decision-makers in Australia's third tier of government, as past sponsors and exhibitors have indicated in their feedback.

With national media attention and upwards of 1,200 delegates, NGA sponsorship and exhibitor opportunities will be limited.

CONFERENCE LOCATION

The National General Assembly is held in Canberra, Australia's capital city, one of the few planned cities on earth. Canberra is home to many of Australia's iconic institutions and treasures, the Federal Parliament of Australia, the judiciary, the Australian Public Service and the International diplomatic community.

Canberra has a population of approximately 460,000 people and is located 150km from the ocean and 281km from Sydney. Less than two hours drive to the beautiful beaches on the South Coast and with over 30 wineries producing national and international award-winning wines.

Canberra hosts an array of events throughout the year which bring people from around the country such as Floriade, the Spring flower festival, the Truffle Festival, with over 250 individual events through the Winter, and the Canberra Multicultural Festival with the whole city lined with food stalls from around the world.
