Insight. Innovation. Inspiration

Australia's favourite learning and development conference is back for 2026, bringing you a global perspective on key issues, practical takeaways and a renewed sense of purpose.

About AITD

Who We Are

Established in 1971 as a not-for-profit association owned by members, the Australian Institute of Training and Development's original purpose was to raise the profile of workplace training as an industry in its own right and to create networking opportunities for individuals with an interest in the subject. Today, AITD offers a broad range of products, services and support to a diverse and passionate community of L&D practitioners located across the globe.

Our Purpose

We believe in the value of continuous learning and professional development to build a thriving, adaptable workforce. Our mission is to equip learning and development professionals - across Australian and beyond - with the skills necessary to achieve this through professional development opportunities, networking and knowledge sharing.

Our Members

Our membership base spans all industries and represents the full spectrum of roles across the learning and development profession, including: trainers, educators, consultants, coaches, chief learning officers, course coordinators, mentors, instructors, teachers, facilitators, academics, human resources and organisational development professionals, instructional designers, assessors, and undergraduate and graduate students.

AITD Conferences

Why We Do This Work

The annual, 2 and a half day AITD conference has a reputation for delivering a varied and high-quality program featuring Australian and international L&D thought leaders. The agenda covers a broad range of topics – from tools and technologies to theory and best practice – ensuring all delegates walk away with tangible takeaways they can implement in their own workplaces.

Networking is a key element of the conference and delegates consistently rate the opportunity to make strong connections with the wider L&D community as one of the most important aspects of the conference experience.

In 2026, we are looking to return with a face-to-face conference with the most dynamic event to date. Drawing on past feedback, our focus for this event has been to provide an intimate and inclusive delegate experience while delivering an innovative and forward-thinking program which celebrates the best of learning and development.

Why partner with AITD?

Network with delegates in an intimate and relaxed setting, opening opportunities for richer engagement and establishing strong relationships.

Expose your brand to thousands of potential clients via conference marketing collateral and Training & Development magazine.

Align your brand with a reputable event and the association of choice for L&D professionals in Australia.

Maximise promotional opportunities through customised conference merchandise and branding.

Showcase your strengths, solutions and services to a receptive and relevant audience, improving customer knowledge of your product.

AITD 2026 is the perfect platform to access senior training, L&D and HR decision makers across major industries in the private and public sector.

Meet Our Delegates

Based on AITD conference attendee data.

The background features a dark, textured surface with a series of concentric, glowing blue circles that create a sense of depth and movement. The circles are more prominent on the left side and fade towards the right. There are also some faint, glowing blue lines and shapes scattered across the background, giving it a futuristic or technological feel.

Sponsorship & Exhibition PACKAGES

Sponsor AITD 2026

Becoming an AITD 2026 sponsor means so much more than simply exhibiting at the conference.

Sponsoring AITD 2026 ensures continued exposure for your brand – before, during and after the conference. And not only will you reach conference attendees, your message will also be seen by our wider membership and community through our online and print channels.

Our sponsorship packages have been designed to maximise your opportunities to establish lasting and rewarding relationships with delegates from industries that matter to you. However, we know that not one size fits all so we are always happy to work with you to customise a package that works for you.

To ensure your brand and messaging cut through, we only offer a limited number of packages which means you're not fighting to get your voice heard – but it also means that once they're gone, they're gone!
