FAQ

This small Christchurch business offers employees up to $10 a day to bike to work

JACK FLETCHER
Last updated 21:37, March 6 2018

JOSEPH JOHNSON/STUFF

Tim Chesney, of Make Collective, is giving employees a cash bonus if they bike to work.

Fitness, yes. Less pollution, yes. Travel zen, absolutely. But cash?

A small Christchurch business has come up with a unique reward to get their employees biking to work.

Employees of Make Collective, a creative and advertising agency, receive $5 every time they bike to and from work, but if they bike more than half their annual work days, the amount will double.
