SADD: Empowering young people and communities towards safer road user journeys

Wednesday 14 November, 1:45pm – 2:30pm

This presentation will start with SADD team introductions, then talk about the name change, vision and principles. The discussion will then turn to SADD programme aims, objectives, sector alignment and outcomes - The safe road user journey; benefits and opportunities. Ending with leadership in community collaboration

Donna Govorko, National Manager SADD - MSc (Hons), BPhEd, Dip Tchg

Donna Govorko is the National Manager for SADD (Students Against Dangerous Driving), a youth led peer-to-peer education programme empowering young people to lead safer lives. Previously a Sergeant with the New Zealand Police as well as a secondary school teacher, Donna has long been focussed on community and road safety. Her broad-based life experience also includes time as a personal trainer and with the RNZAF. She has taken the opportunity to lead SADD, because she is passionate about living in a safe community and has devoted her career to finding innovative ways to successfully build community engagement and commitment to safer road user journeys.
