Quantifying transport investment outcomes: insights from the MOAT Tool

Discover how cutting-edge modelling tools are shaping the future of transport investment at our panel session. This engaging workshop, aligned with the theme “Working with What We Have: Resilience for the Future,” brings together expert voices from NZTA Waka Kotahi, QTP, Aurecon, Abley, and Infometrics. The session will explore the innovative Multiple Outcomes Assessment Tool (MOAT), developed by the NZTA Planning and Investment Evidence programme, and demonstrate how MOAT empowers decision-makers to evaluate and communicate the impacts of major transport investments. Join us for a thought-provoking session dedicated to balancing strategic goals with community needs, leveraging limited resources, and fostering resilient, equitable, and sustainable transport systems for New Zealand’s future. Don’t miss this opportunity to gain actionable insights and contribute to the conversation on evidence-based transport planning!
