AI IN HEALTH

Pioneering the future of clinical AI: Bridging innovation with practicality

3.12.2024 HAMILTON

Organiser Dr Jamal Zolhavarieh, AI and Data Engineer

As Artificial Intelligence (AI) continues to reshape the landscape of healthcare, the "AI in Health" workshop remains at the cutting edge of this revolution. This year's theme invites participants to explore the exciting possibilities and practical challenges of integrating AI technologies into clinical practice.

KEY QUESTIONS TO EXPLORE

Generative AI in the clinic: Hype or hope?

Can generative AI truly revolutionize patient care, or are we just scratching the surface of its potential?

Collaboration for innovation

How can the public sector and industry effectively partner to drive AI innovation in healthcare? What models of collaboration are proving most successful?

Ethics in AI

As AI tools become more prevalent in clinical settings, how do we ensure ethical considerations keep pace with technological advancements?

Diverse perspectives on AI

How do different stakeholders—commercial, technical, legal, and cultural—view the integration of AI in healthcare? What can we learn from these varied lenses?

From theory to practice

What are the real-world use cases where AI has been successfully implemented? What lessons can be learned from these successes (and failures)?

WORKSHOP HIGHLIGHTS

This year's program features a rich mix of keynote presentations, panel discussions, and interactive sessions designed to engage a broad spectrum of participants. From the latest updates on national AI initiatives to hands-on explorations of specific AI use cases in surgery and radiology, the workshop aims to equip attendees with both the knowledge and practical tools needed to lead AI-driven transformation in their organisations.

Join us in Hamilton, New Zealand, as we delve into these critical questions and collaborate to shape the future of AI in healthcare—ensuring it is not only innovative but also impactful, equitable, and ethically grounded.
