

POSTERS

Poster Title	Author
From Satisfaction to Attendance Burden: A Consumer Centred Lens for Telehealth First Care	Shona Callum
Virtual Emergency Departments and Domestic Violence: a new frontier for healthcare	Dr Kim Hansen
myChildHealth TeleHealth Clinic	Colleen Hickey
Bridging Distance Differently: Telerehabilitation Models of Care for Spinal Cord Injury in Low- and Middle-Income Countries	Dr Monique Hines
Consumer needs and design preferences for video-based systemic anti-cancer treatment education	Tara Isaacs
Exploring factors associated with safe recall of medication side effects	Dr Yangxueqing Jiang
Supporting Non-Clinical Referrers in Virtual Urgent Care: Lessons From a Statewide Disability Pathway	Mr David Nouju
Your Home Gets You: Building the Care Economy's Invisible Infrastructure with Predictive IoT	Mr Dmitry Shibanov
Economic and workforce benefits of a telehealth training and telementoring program for Northern Australia	Professor Anthony Smith
Recent developments in telehealth education and training: A systematic review of curricula from the past five years	Dr Soraia de Camargo Catapan
A Simplified Workflow for Multi-Institutional Live Endoscopy Transmission Using Zoom Breakout Rooms	Dr. Shintaro Ueda
Trust in AI-Enabled Digital Healthcare for Cardiovascular-Kidney-Metabolic Self-Management : A Systematic Review	Ms Jia Wan
Virtual geriatric in-reach across rural residential aged care: partnering nurse practitioners with remote geriatricians and aged psychiatrists	Dr Raymond Wen
Virtual subspecialist inpatient support: co-designed access to subspecialties in regional Queensland
Virtual inpatient care as a foundation for rural hospital recovery: three years of lessons from a paper-hospital pilot to a multi-site Victorian model

POSTERS

Poster Title	Author
Bridging the dermatology care gap: a fully virtual specialist model in a region with no resident dermatologist	Dr Raymond Wen
GEM-R HITH: embedding a virtual geriatrician in a Hospital-in-the-Home model where no local specialist exists
Culturally safe paediatric care for Aboriginal communities: a co-designed virtual specialist model with Armajun Aboriginal Health Service
Determinants of Digital Health Maturity in Low- and Middle-Income Countries: Scoping Review	Dr Saman Yapa Bandara
Resolving Diagnostic Uncertainty in Suspected Encephalitis Through Telehealth Neurology Review	Mai Vu
Waiting is acceptable. Unacknowledged waiting is not: Patient-reported experiences of telehealth virtual waiting	Ms Nicole Bate & Mrs Nadine Guiney
Investigating the relationship between nurses' work-life balance and their knowledge and attitudes toward artificial intelligence in hospitals affiliated with Behbahan University of Medical Sciences, Iran.	Ms Mahsa Haji Mohammad Hosseini
Establishing government-led telemedicine services in Indonesia: lessons learned	Dr Herdiana Herdiana
Integrated Nurse Practitioner and Pharmacist Cardiology Telehealth for Underserved Communities.	Ms Ching-ting Hung & Ms Vivian Bryce
Utilisation of Telehealth for Mavacamten Monitoring to Reduce Cardiology Outpatient Burden
Designing and implementing a nurse-led telehealth RPM Model of Care: Successes, Failures and Lessons Learnt.	Mrs Sophia Moraitis