Invitation

DFTB is delighted to be taking the conference to Glasgow, Scotland in 2026.

DFTB26 will provide all clinicians with the opportunity to refresh our knowledge, our networks, and our reserves of inspiration. Our DFTB26 theme of Back to Basics will cover how we, as clinicians, work together as part of a team with our patients, with our colleagues, and with each other in our DFTB global community.

We believe that the success of DFTB26 hinges on the collaborative support of our sponsors and exhibitors. Your participation will not only enhance the quality and reach of our event, but also align your brand with a leading paediatric healthcare conference. We invite you to be a part of this exceptional event and join us in shaping an inspiring and educational experience for the paediatric healthcare community.

What's unique about DFTB?

- The program – We work closely with our handpicked speakers and coach them to be the best they can be. We are heavily invested in the flow of the program and narrative arc. The result is scientific content delivered in an accessible and engaging way
- Knowledge translation – We partner with the key paediatric research institutions. PREDICT and PERUKI produce scientific research, which we translate into practical, relatable and digestible content for clinicians
- We're independent, and that means we're agile, dynamic and responsive
- We've built an inspiring and motivating community – DFTB is the place to connect with like-minded professionals, we have built the community by producing free, quality content
- It's got the personal touch – DFTB is run by a team of doctors and we've put our heart and soul into it

How engaged are our participants?

What is DFTB?

DFTB is a unique paediatric grassroots project built by four doctors working in the speciality. Tessa, Andy, Henry, and Ben noticed a gap for providing relevant, high- quality education to healthcare professionals that was practical and meaningful to clinical practice.

What's in the name? Well, there's more to paediatrics than just the clinical- bubbles are an important distraction technique, enabling doctors to take a holistic approach when managing unwell children – and have fun.

DFTB has grown since it launched over 10 years ago. The website now gets 1.5 million unique views per year from all over the world, and is ranked number one in the world in terms of digital impact factor. Since our first conference in 2017, DFTB has continued to grow in popularity.
