Everything's better when we're together

Welcome to the Institute of Quarrying Australia (IQA), a professional body for quarry operators and suppliers nationwide where our history connects and supports the extractive industry. Through our Branches and Sub-Branches, we've been fostering professional development for decades.

The conference strategy involves dynamic collaboration with the industry to ensure up-to-date content on work health and safety.

Join the IQA in shaping the future of the extractive industry by becoming a sponsor or exhibitor. Align your brand with excellence, innovation, and the continuous advancement of industry professionals.

Now in its 21st year, the conference attracts staff from the quarrying, mining, and associated extractive industries. Sponsorship opportunities and trade exhibition spaces are now open. Registration and conference catering will be held in the exhibition area, maximising exposure for sponsors and exhibitors.

The 2024 QLD Quarrying and Mining Safety & Health Conference offers a unique opportunity to gain exposure, expand networks, maintain, and generate new customers, and be part of an active community. Showcase your brand, products, and services, while networking with quarry, concrete, and associated industry professionals.

The Conference Planning Committee appreciates your consideration in supporting this pivotal event and looks forward to the opportunity to partner with you.
