SOCIAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH

"The Crown education system had much lower expectations for Ngati Porou than Pakeha for nearly 100 years after 1867. It sought to prepare most Maori children for manual labouring occupations only... A Crown study in the 1990s concluded that the educational qualifications of East Coast residents lagged well behind those of other New Zealanders. This has restricted the economic and life Opportunities" Waitangi Tribunal

> Economic Stability

Housing Instability

"By the middle of the twentieth century economic stagnation was a serious problem on the East Coast. Many industries which had previously provided employment for Ngati Porou had closed by the late 1960s including all of the dairy factories, among them the Ngati Porou Company dairy factory, and all but one of NT the freezing works. By the early 1990s the East Coast had the highest unemployment rate of any region in New Zealand, and had become one of its most deprived in socioeconomic terms. " Waitangi Tribunal

Healthcare Access & Quality

"I think we have now some quite good evidence that racism at a range of levels does determine access to experience of and outcomes in the health care system." - DG HEALTH

Neighborhood & Built Environment Housing Quality

"Maori are four times more likely to live in overcrowded housing conditions than people of European heritage. These figures above forcefully lead to the conclusion that significant targeted action is required urgently to meet the current housing needs of Maori as a means to both promote human rights and restore Te Tiriti rights." UN Rapporteur to the Rights of Adequate Housing

"Urbanization has resulted in a level of cultural shock within Maori communities and disrupted Maori kinship structures" Prof G Smith
