Exhibitor information

The exhibition hall forms an integral part of the OTX Conference. Its 'face-to-face' style showcases your business and brand to OT delegates and, importantly, helps make them aware of new products, ideas, and services. The beauty of our OTX exhibition is that it allows for two-way conversations and practical demonstrations, where suppliers and OTs can learn from each other.

Meals

All morning teas, lunches and afternoon teas are served in the exhibition hall for delegates and exhibitors, maximising opportunities for exhibitors to meet OT delegates.

Delegate engagement initiatives

We will use our Event App to encourage OTs to visit exhibition booths and scan a unique, OTA-provided QR code to accumulate points to win prizes.

This year, prizes will be provided by OTA and awarded to delegates in the last session of the conference who have accumulated the most points from booth visitations.

Exhibitors will then be able to capture the contact data of every OT that scans the QR code at the booth and access it post-conference through the Exhibitor Portal.

IMPORTANT: You will receive information prior to the conference on how to set up your Exhibitor Portal to facilitate the data capture function of the Event App. This task can only be fulfilled by the exhibitor and must be done prior to the event.

To further encourage OTs to spend more time in the exhibition hall we have designed three key innovations within the hall.

- 1. We will build a Learning & Development Hub including a 50-seat theatrette (with wireless headphones on each seat) and display all academic posters on either side of the theatrette at the rear of the hall. Various OTA-reviewed and approved short exhibitor presentations will be made at the theatrette during breaks.
- 2. We will also build lounge areas for OTs to relax and consume their meals during breaks.
- 3. The OTA Membership Hub will also be positioned centrally in the hall as part of these innovations to encourage OTs to spend maximum time in the exhibition hall.

Optional booth upgrades

Each exhibitor has the option of upgrading and personalising their booth to maximise brand impact and amenity. These options will be noted in the Exhibitor Briefing Notes prior to the event. Any upgrades of your booth will be a commercial arrangement between you and the OTA-selected exhibition builder at a cost agreed by you and the builder. OTA is not involved and has no oversight of any potential upgrade options.
