SPONSORSHIP
OPPORTUNITIES
2025_

It is with great pleasure that
The Andy Thomas Space Foundation invites you to consider sponsoring the 18th Australian Space Forum.

15-16 JULY 2025
ADELAIDE, SOUTH AUSTRALIA

Taking place over three nights and two days at the Adelaide Convention Centre, the 18th Australian Space Forum represents the pre-eminent event for Australia's national space industry.

Supported by the Australian Space Agency and the South Australian Space Industry Centre, and endorsed by industry, government and research leaders, the event has grown year-on-year, and increasingly attracts large audiences from both domestic and international markets, showcasing the very best in research, technology and operations across the Australian and global space ecosystem.

Designed to encourage collaboration and investment, and to strengthen ties across the industry, this year's forum will focus on emerging themes and trends in local, national and international contexts, with additional opportunities for deep engagement in specialised areas through curated streams, panel discussions and workshops.

Your decision to partner with the Andy Thomas Space Foundation to help bring this innovative and inspiring event to life will provide your organisation with maximum exposure at Australia's premiere space industry event for 2025, and will reflect and reinforce your presence as a leading actor in the space sector – with the added benefit of supporting valuable STEM and space education initiatives that aim to inspire and excite the next generation of Australian space professionals.

The 18th Australian Space Forum is an event not to be missed, and we warmly invite you and your organisation to join us as we explore the exciting developments and new opportunities that our growing space ecosystem presents, both within our sovereign borders, and as a vital partner for global space operations.

Industry and Delegate Footprint

The Australian Space Forum

Entering its 18th iteration in 2025, the Australian Space Forum (ASF) brings all facets of the Australian space industry together, offering extensive opportunities to learn, share, network, collaborate and forge new business relationships that advance the capability, capacity and resilience of the industry into the future.

Attracting delegates from both domestic and international markets, our footprint provides our sponsors, partners and exhibitors a unique opportunity to engage with a broad cross-section of the space community, including key figures and decision-makers from leading organisations in defence, infrastructure, research and development, manufacturing, engineering, launch capability, mission operations and cybersecurity.

Providing sponsors and exhibitors with access to a truly diverse and influential audience, in recent years, the ASF has proven to be an excellent catalyst for start-ups and small to medium-sized enterprises looking to accelerate or scale-up their operations within the space sector, and a valuable opportunity for major companies to connect with emerging trends and new opportunities in research, technology and public policy.

“The Australian Space Forum...plays a vital role in fostering collaboration, showcasing capabilities and facilitating commercial opportunities that extend globally. The South Australian Space Industry Centre continues to be a proud supporter of the Forum as a unique platform to engage with stakeholders and contribute to the advancement of Australia’s space ecosystem..”

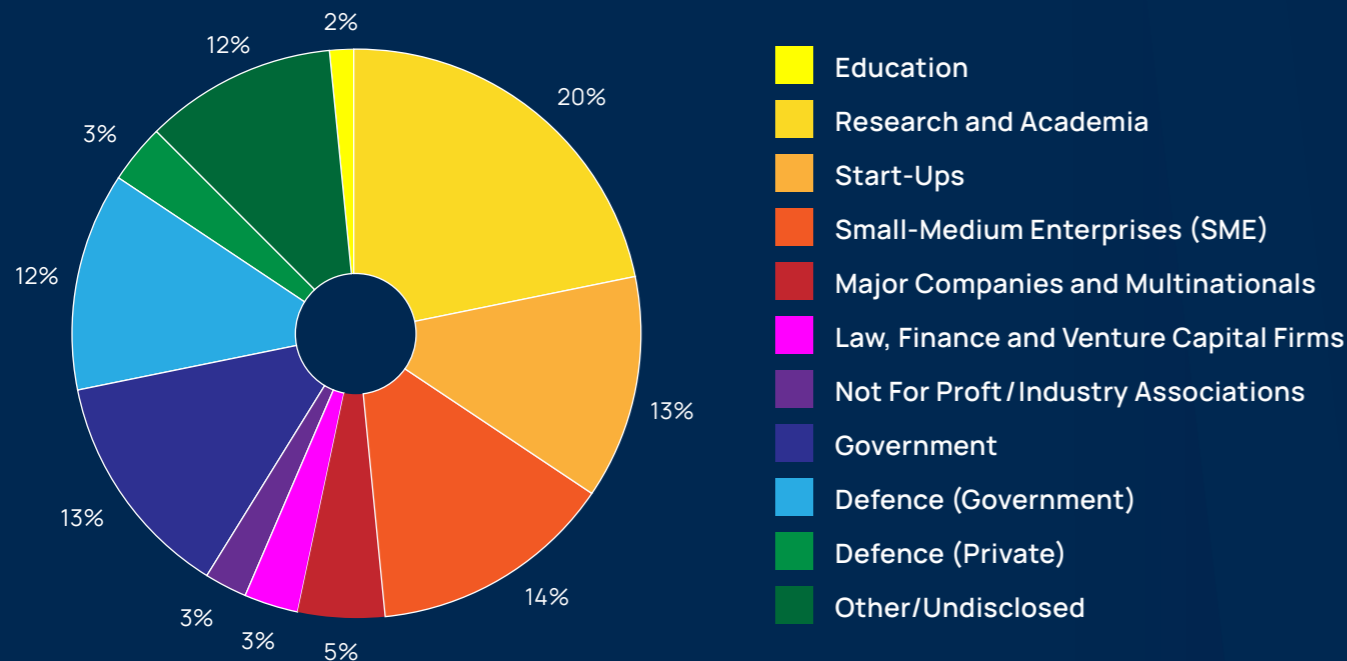

MR. MATT OPIE
CHIEF EXECUTIVE
SOUTH AUSTRALIAN SPACE INDUSTRY CENTRE

Driving progress in education, research and innovation for the future of the Australian space ecosystem:

The work and impact of The Andy Thomas Space Foundation

Founded and commencing operation in 2020, The Andy Thomas Space Foundation is recognised as one of Australia's leading space not-for-profits.

The Andy Thomas Space Foundation is proud to convene Australia's preeminent space industry event as an extension of its mission to advance the Australian space industry through education, research and innovation – forging new pathways for the next generation of Australians to pursue their future place in space.

Supported by the Australian Space Agency and the South Australian Government, and propelled forward by ever-growing connections and contributions from industry partners, the Foundation has successfully launched an array of programs, projects and scholarships that have positively impacted the educational journey of more than 28,000 students, and enhanced the delivery of space and STEM-related education in more than 270 schools, universities and higher education institutions.

By partnering with the Andy Thomas Space Foundation, your organisation contributes meaningfully to the advancement of the Australian space industry, with all profits from the Australian Space Forum directed to the advancement of the next generation of scientists, researchers and engineers through the invaluable opportunities facilitated by the Foundation's annual Education Fund.
