The Royal Australasian College of Physicians

The Royal Australasian College of Physicians (RACP) represents over 33,000 medical specialists (Fellows and trainees) from 33 different specialties, across Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand.

The RACP provides training, continuing professional development (CPD) and education for members, and Overseas Trained Physicians who wish to practice as a physician in either country. Our events, workshops, and conferences bring the community together to share knowledge, build skills, and strengthen the physician workforce.

The Australasian Chapter of Sexual Health Medicine (AChSHM)

RACP members (Fellows and trainees) train and work across two Divisions; Adult Medicine and Paediatric and Child Health; and three Faculties.

The Australasian Chapter of Sexual Health Medicine (AChSHM) is a Chapter of the Adult Medicine Division, that represents Sexual Health Medicine Fellows and trainees and provides them with training and continuing professional development to promote excellence in skills, expertise and ethical standards. The Chapter is made up of approximately 215 Fellows and 46 Trainees, 2 Honorary Fellows (263 members in total). *

The AChSHM Annual Scientific Meeting (ASM) and Annual Trainee Meeting (ATM) is the Chapter's member-focused event that physicians attend to connect, gain insights into current issues and empowers sexual health physicians to drive the future of sexual health across Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand. It is a highly anticipated and well-attended event within the sexual health medicine community.

Annual Trainees' Meeting (ATM)
Friday, 2 April 2027 (8.30am to 1pm AEDT) Delivered in person at RACP Offices, 1 O'Connell Street, Sydney

*current as of July 2026.

About the ASM

The 2027 AChSHM ASM and ATM is a two-day research-focused event that offers sexual health physicians an opportunity to gather and discuss current issues within the sector and drive the future of sexual health across Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand.

This year's program will focus on key topics such as HIV, syphilis, complex STI management, gender affirming care, and more.

The 2027 AChSHM ASM and ATM will be delivered in person Friday, 2 April and Saturday, 3 April 2027 in Sydney NSW.

"I think the programs are always great. Relevant, interesting, nuanced. The organising committee does a great job..." 2026 attendee feedback

This event is an opportunity for all physicians who are active or interested in the field of sexual health medicine to come together and hear the latest updates within the sector. It has traditionally been highly attended as it provides great value to our AChSHM Fellows and trainees.

Who attends?

Most attendees are RACP AChSHM Fellows and trainees. However, this event also attracts:

- medical specialists
- general practitioners
- nurses
- counsellors
- public health professionals
- allied health workers
- health promotion experts.

Key reasons to support the 2027 AChSHM ASM:

The AChSHM ASM attracts leading physicians from a range of disciplines to share their knowledge and research on sexual health medicine.

As an event partner your brand will be seen by this targeted demographic. It is a prime opportunity for your organisation to:

- Engage some of Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand's most senior leaders in sexual health medicine
- Elevate recognition and understanding of your brand
- Promote your organisation, and its commitment to the medical industry
- Build your profile and continuity with key decision makers before, during and after the event
- Reinforce relationships with existing clients and form new partnerships
- Be on the cutting edge of the future of the sexual health medical industry by hearing first-hand from those in the know.

Message from the AChSHM Convenors

The Australasian Chapter of Sexual Health Medicine (AChSHM) invites all AChSHM Fellows and trainees, general practitioners, allied health professionals, and nurses to the upcoming 2027 Annual Scientific Meeting (ASM) and Annual Trainee Meeting (ATM). This event is scheduled for Friday, 2 April 2027 and Saturday 3, April 2027, and will be hosted in person at the RACP Offices at 1 O'Connell Street, Sydney NSW.

In 2027, the ASM program will run across both days and will begin from Friday 1.30pm. Please join us for registration, lunch and networking from 12.30pm.

AChSHM trainees will have dedicates sessions on Friday morning from 8.30am. This will provide opportunities to review Chapter training and curriculum changes, as well as the exit examinations process.

This meeting aims to connect healthcare specialists and professionals with experts in the field and will cover important local and international updates in HIV, syphilis, complex STI management, gender affirming care and provide opportunities to network.

We look forward to sharing insightful and engaging discussions across both days, and your participation is eligible for CPD. We look forward to seeing you there. Stay tuned for the full program!

Lead Convenor:
Dr Yen Li Lim

Event Sponsorship/Exhibitor Agreement - Terms

1. Definitions

Unless the context requires otherwise the following words will have the following meanings in this agreement:

a. Advertising Material means any and all advertising or other promotional materials in any form or media and published or otherwise made available through any means of communication or publication which are produced by or for the Sponsor or RACP and which make use of or reference to the Sponsor, the Sponsor's products or logos, RACP or RACP's products or logos.

b. Confidential Information means information however held, recorded or delivered, whether exchanged between the parties before, on or after the date of this agreement relating to the business, assets or other affairs of a party or its related bodies corporate including in relation to the present and future development, marketing, promotion and sale of existing and new products and services (including "know how", trade secrets, marketing and merchandising methods and concepts, product and packaging designs, market research data and the like), financial information, information relating to clients or suppliers, particulars of employees or contractors, any specific information marked as confidential and any concepts, research data, designs, results, software systems or other documentation or information but does not include:
   (ii) information which is available in the public domain, except where that is a result of a disclosure in breach of the agreement; or
   (ii) information which a party can prove was in its possession before disclosure by the other party, which was not acquired in breach of an obligation of confidence.

c. Event Materials means all materials created or developed by either party in relation to this agreement or the Event, including any logos, banners, promotional materials, flyers, images, videos, social media content, point of sale or other advertising materials.

d. Force Majeure means acts of God, fire, flood, war, earthquake, terrorism, epidemic, strike, lockout, labour controversy, civil commotion, pandemic, acts or restriction of any government or governmental agencies, and any other circumstances beyond the reasonable control of the relevant party.

e. GST means the goods and services tax imposed in Australia by A New Tax System (Goods and Services Tax) Act 1999 (Cth) ("Australian GST Act") and in New Zealand by the Goods and Services Tax Act 1985 (NZ) ("NZ GST Act"), and a term or expression used in this agreement that has a defined meaning in the Australian GST Act has the same meaning given to it in the Australian GST Act for GST purposes, or to its equivalent concept in the NZ GST Act for New Zealand GST purposes, unless the context indicates otherwise.

f. GST Law means the Australian GST Act and the NZ GST ACT.

g. Intellectual Property Rights means all intellectual property rights including current and future registered and unregistered rights in relation to copyright, trade marks, designs, concepts, trade secrets, know-how, patents, confidential information, patents, inventions, discoveries and all other intellectual property as defined in article 2 of the Convention establishing the World Intellectual Property Organisation 1967.

h. RACP Assets means goods or materials in whatever form provided by RACP to the Sponsor or its personnel for the purposes of this agreement, including signage and equipment.

i. RACP Intellectual Property means all Intellectual Property Rights that are owned by RACP, including in and to any trade marks, logos or products and the Event Materials.

j. Sponsor Intellectual Property means all Intellectual Property Rights that are owned by the Sponsor, including in and to any trade marks, logos and products.

k. Value in Kind Items means the Value in Kind Goods and the Value in Kind Services.

All other capitalised terms used in these Terms have the same meaning given to them in the Details.

SPONSORSHIP TERMS

Clauses 2 - 3 below apply for all sponsorship agreements.

2. Sponsorship Rights

a. All potential sponsors will be subject to review and approval by RACP. RACP will not enter a sponsorship agreement with any sponsor who is involved in advertising or promoting products or services that are in conflict with RACP policies and guidelines; or where a sponsorship agreement brings adverse publicity to the RACP and its programs and services.
b. During the Term, RACP appoints the Sponsor as a sponsor of the Event and will provide the Sponsor with the Sponsorship Rights in accordance with the terms of this agreement.
c. During the Term, RACP must:
   (iii) organise, operate and promote the Event and all affiliated activities in a competent and professional manner and in accordance with the terms of this agreement;
   (iii) not do or permit anything to be done which could reasonably be considered to be detrimental to the Sponsor's goodwill, name or reputation; and
   (iii) work with the Sponsor to promote the Sponsor's sponsorship of the Event.

3. Sponsorship Fee

a. In consideration for RACP providing the Sponsorship Rights, the Sponsor agrees to pay RACP the Sponsorship Fee on receipt of a valid tax invoice from RACP in accordance with the timing set out in Schedule 2.
b. Where applicable, the Sponsor also agrees to provide RACP with the Value In Kind Items in accordance with this agreement.
c. Where applicable, when providing the Value In Kind Services, the Sponsor agrees to:
   i. comply with occupational health and safety laws, regulations, standards and codes of practice;
   ii. maintain true, up to date and complete records and reports in relation to the Value In Kind Services;
   iii. promptly respond to any request by RACP for an update on the progress of the Value In Kind Services and any other information reasonably requested by RACP from time to time;
   iv. keep RACP fully advised of the progress of the Value In Kind Services and, without limiting the foregoing, promptly notify RACP of any matters which may materially affect the Sponsor's ability to perform the Value In Kind Services; and
   v. if requested by RACP, meet with RACP at a time and date agreed by the parties during the Term or after the completion of delivery of the Value In Kind Services to conduct a de-brief regarding the Value In Kind Services at no charge.
d. The Sponsor must not sub-contract any Value In Kind Services to a third party without the prior written consent of RACP. The Sponsor will remain liable for the acts and omissions of any subcontractors as if they were the acts and omissions of the Sponsor.

e. If the Sponsor has paid all or part of the Sponsorship Fee, and the Event is postponed indefinitely or cancelled, RACP must refund the entire amount of the Sponsorship Fee (or such part of the Sponsorship Fee that has been advanced to RACP) to the Sponsor within 7 days of the Sponsor requesting in writing that the amount be refunded.
f. if the Sponsor has provided any Value In Kind Goods and the Event is postponed indefinitely or cancelled, RACP must return any Value In Kind Goods in its possession within 7 days of the Sponsor requesting in writing that the Value In Kind Goods be returned.

EXHIBITOR TERMS

4. Exhibitor Rights

a. All potential sponsors and exhibitors will be subject to review and approval by RACP. RACP will not enter a sponsorship agreement with any sponsor or exhibitor who is involved in advertising or promoting products or services that are in conflict with RACP policies and guidelines; or where a sponsorship agreement brings adverse publicity to the RACP and its programs and services.
b. RACP agrees that the Sponsor will be an exhibitor at the Event and will provide the Sponsor with the Exhibitor Rights in accordance with the terms of this agreement.
c. During the Term, RACP must:
    i. organise, operate and promote the Event and all affiliated activities in a competent and professional manner and in accordance with the terms of this agreement;
    ii. not do or permit anything to be done which could reasonably be considered to be detrimental to the Sponsor's goodwill, name or reputation; and
    iii. work with the Sponsor to promote the Sponsor's exhibition at the Event.

5. Exhibitor Fee

a. In consideration for RACP providing the Exhibitor Rights, the Sponsor agrees to pay RACP the Exhibitor Fee on receipt of a valid tax invoice from RACP in accordance with the timing set out in Schedule 4.
b. If the Sponsor has paid all or part of the Exhibitor Fee, and the Event is postponed indefinitely or cancelled, RACP must refund the entire amount of the Exhibitor Fee to the Sponsor within 7 days of the Sponsor requesting in writing that the amount be refunded.

GENERAL TERMS

Clauses 6- 18 below apply where "yes" is inserted next to either or both "Sponsorship" and "Exhibitor" in the Details.

6. Event

RACP will have full control over the coordination of the Event, including, but not limited to the Event speakers and the Event program.

7. Warranties

a. The Sponsor represents and warrants to RACP that:
    i. it has the power and authority to fully perform this agreement in accordance with its terms;

ii. it will perform its obligations under this agreement with due care and skill and in a professional manner consistent with generally accepted industry best practice;
iii. it will provide all personnel, processes and resources required to perform its obligations under this agreement;
iv. it has obtained and will maintain all necessary authorisations, licences, approvals, permits and accreditations to perform its obligations under this agreement; and
v. it will not make any false or misleading representations or engage in any misleading conduct with respect to the Event.

b. This clause 7 does not purport to exclude, restrict or modify any warranty, guarantee or any other rights or obligations which apply to the Sponsor's performance of the agreement at law.
c. RACP represents and warrants to the Sponsor that:
(iii) it has the power and authority to fully perform this agreement in accordance with its terms;
(iii) it has obtained and will maintain all necessary authorisations, licences, approvals, permits and accreditations to stage the Event and perform its obligations under this agreement; and
(iii) it will not make any false or misleading representations or engage in any misleading conduct with respect to the Sponsor.

8. Intellectual property

a. The Sponsor grants to RACP a non-exclusive, royalty free, sub-licensable, licence for the Term to use, display and publish the Sponsor's name and the logo set out in Schedule 3 for the purposes of this agreement.
b. RACP grants to the Sponsor a non-exclusive, royalty free, licence for the Term to use, display and publish RACP's name, the Event name and the logo set out in Schedule 3 in connection with Event and for the purposes of this agreement.
c. Unless otherwise agreed, the Sponsor acknowledges that any Intellectual Property Rights and other property rights in any Event Materials created by either party during the Term will, on creation, be owned by RACP. The Sponsor hereby assigns, and must procure that its personnel assign, all Intellectual Property Rights in the Event Materials to RACP upon their creation. The Sponsor agrees to do all things which may be necessary for these ownership rights to pass to RACP.
d. The parties acknowledge that except as expressly set out in this agreement, RACP retains all right, title and interest in and to the RACP Intellectual Property. The Sponsor acknowledges that is not permitted to use any of the RACP Intellectual Property including any logos, trademarks or business names owned by RACP without RACP's prior written consent.

9. Promotional materials

a. As soon as practicable after the Effective Date, the parties must:
i. discuss and agree guidelines for the making of public statements (including advertising and press releases) in relation to the Sponsor's involvement in the Event ("Publicity Guidelines"); and
ii. once the Publicity Guidelines have been agreed, only make public statements in relation to the Event in accordance with the Publicity Guidelines.
b. Until the Publicity Guidelines have been agreed, each party must obtain the prior written consent of the other party before making any public statements in relation to the Sponsor's involvement in the Event.
c. A party ("First Party") may require the other party ("Second Party") to cease publishing any material which makes reference to the First Party and which, in the First Party's reasonable opinion, may adversely affect its business reputation or the promotion of the First Party's products or services.

d. Unless otherwise agreed between the parties, each party may produce Advertising Material in relation to the Event and the Sponsor's involvement in the Event.
e. Subject to clause 9(g), before publishing, distributing, performing or otherwise making available any Advertising Material containing any RACP Intellectual Property, the Sponsor must obtain RACP's prior written consent.
f. Subject to clause 9(g), before publishing, distributing, performing or otherwise making available any Advertising Material containing any Sponsor Intellectual Property, RACP must obtain the Sponsor's prior written consent.
g. In relation to the consents required in accordance with clause 9(e) and 9(f), each party agrees that:
    i. it will not unreasonably withhold such consent; and
    ii. it will provide such consent:
        a. within 3 business days following receipt of the other party's written request for consent; or
        b. within such other reasonable time specified by the other party in writing acknowledging that, for some Advertising Material (such as, for example, social media posts), the other party will require consent be provided within a period shorter than 3 business days; and
    iii. if it does not provide consent or notify the other party of the reasons it will not provide consent within the timeframes specified in clause 9(g), such consent will be deemed to be given in respect of the relevant Advertising Material.

10. RACP Assets

a. While in its possession, the Sponsor agrees to hold any RACP Assets as bailee, only use them for the purposes of performing its obligations under this agreement and hold them securely and with care and diligence. The Sponsor must not hire, re-loan or encumber RACP Assets and must not make any alterations, modification or adjustment to them without RACP's consent.
b. The Sponsor acknowledges and agrees that it is responsible for any loss or damage to or destruction of the RACP Assets whilst they are in the Sponsor's possession or control.

11. Confidentiality

a. Each party acknowledges that Confidential Information of the other party may be disclosed to it and agrees:
    i. to at all times keep the other party's Confidential Information absolutely secret and confidential and not directly or indirectly disclose or communicate it to any third party at any time without the prior written authority of the other party;
    ii. to not use or exploit (for itself for any other person) any of the other party's Confidential Information or any part thereof for any reason except as necessary to comply with its obligations under this agreement;
    iii. to limit access to the other party's Confidential Information to only its personnel as may reasonably require access for providing or receiving the Sponsorship Rights or Exhibitor Rights (as applicable) and shall take all necessary steps to eliminate risk of disclosure of the other party's Confidential Information by such personnel including ensuring that before any such person is given access to the other party's Confidential Information or any part thereof, he or she is made aware of the confidential nature of the material; and

iv. not publicise or disclose the terms of this agreement without first obtaining the other party's written approval.

b. The confidentiality obligations in this clause 11 will continue after the termination or expiration of this agreement.
c. This agreement does not prevent disclosure of Confidential Information by either party as required by law or to its legal or other professional advisors, provided that it immediately notifies the other party in writing of its requirement to disclose the Confidential Information.

12. Insurance

The Sponsor must, at its cost, effect and maintain reasonable and appropriate insurance in relation to the Sponsor's risks and liabilities under this agreement and in relation to the Event. That insurance must be with a reputable insurer for the Term and for a reasonable time after. The Sponsor must provide RACP on request with a copy of the certificate of currency, and the terms and conditions of the insurance policies.

13. Term and termination

a. This agreement will commence on the Effective Date and will continue in force for the Term unless terminated earlier in accordance with the terms of this agreement.
b. Either party may terminate this agreement at any time with immediate effect on the giving of notice to the other party if the other party breaches this agreement and fails to remedy that breach within 14 days of receiving notice requiring it to do so.
c. RACP may terminate this agreement:
    i. at any time on giving 30 days' notice in writing to the Sponsor; or
    ii. immediately on written notice to the Sponsor, if:
        a. where applicable, there is a material diminution of the value of the Value In Kind Items because of a major controversy affecting the Event or the Sponsor or its personnel engaging in wilful misconduct, fraud, a criminal act or an act that brings RACP or the Event into disrepute; or
        b. RACP's name is brought into disrepute by the Sponsor or its personnel or by being associated with the Sponsor or the Event.
d. On termination or expiration of this agreement:
    i. each party must cease use of any Intellectual Property Rights owned by the other party; and
    ii. each party must and must procure that its personnel promptly return to the other party or destroy (at the other party's election) all Confidential Information in its possession or control or in the possession or control of any of its personnel.
e. Termination of this agreement will not affect the rights or remedies of either party accrued up to and including the date of termination. Clauses 6, 8, 11 and 12 (and any other clauses necessary for and incidental to the operation of those clauses) will survive the termination of this agreement.

14. Dispute resolution

a. If a dispute arises out of or in relation to this agreement, either party may give notice of the dispute to the other, which must request that a review meeting be called.
b. Each party's representative must attend a review meeting called under clause 14(a) and must negotiate in good faith over no less than 20 days to promptly settle the dispute.

c. If the parties' representatives are unable to resolve a dispute within 20 days, the parties must mediate the dispute in accordance with the Mediation Rules of the Law Society of New South Wales. If the parties cannot agree on a mediator or any other terms of the mediation (including the mediator's remuneration) within 30 days of one of the parties proposing a mediator or mediators, the President of the Law Society of New South Wales or the President's nominee will resolve the outstanding issues by selecting the mediator and/or determining the outstanding terms of the mediation (including the mediator's remuneration), as appropriate.
d. Nothing in this clause 14 prevents a party from seeking urgent interlocutory, declaratory or injunctive relief from a court of competent jurisdiction where, in that party's reasonable opinion, that action is necessary to protect that party's rights.
e. Nothing in this clause 14 affects a party's right to terminate this agreement in accordance with clause 13 or any other right of termination contained in this agreement.

15. GST

a. If anything supplied under or in connection with this agreement constitutes a taxable supply for the purposes of the GST Law, the supplier may recover from the recipient an amount on account of GST.
b. The amount on account of GST is:
    i. equal to the value of the supply calculated in accordance with the GST Law multiplied by the prevailing GST rate; and
    ii. payable:
        a. at the same time and in the same manner as the recipient is required to pay or provide monetary consideration for the supply to which the additional amount relates; or
        b. where the recipient is not required to pay or provide monetary consideration for the supply in accordance with GST Law to the recipient of the supply.

16. Force Majeure

a. No party shall be liable for any delay in performing or failure to perform any of its obligations to the extent that such delay or failure is caused by Force Majeure, subject to that party promptly notifying the other party in writing of (1) the reasons for the delay or failure, (2) the nature and extent of the obligations affected by Force Majeure, (3) the likely duration of the delay or failure, and (4) the actions that it has taken or proposes to take to remedy the situation, and then using all possible diligence to avoid, remove or limit the effects of the Force Majeure on its performance as quickly as possible.
b. If a Force Majeure occurs and its effect continues for a period of 60 days, the party not affected by Force Majeure may, by written notice to the affected party, terminate this agreement.

17. Notices

a. Each party notifying or giving notice under this agreement must do so in writing and hand deliver or send such notice by pre-paid ordinary post (or if posted to or from a place outside Australia, by pre-paid airmail) or email to the address of the recipient.
b. A notice given in accordance with clause 17(a) will be deemed to have been received:

i. if hand delivered, on the date of delivery;
ii. if sent by pre-paid post, 2 business days after the date of posting, and on the seventh business day if sent to or posted from outside Australia; and
iii. if sent by email, on sending unless the sender's computer reports that the message has not been delivered.

18. General

a. This agreement will be governed by the laws applying in New South Wales. Each party submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of courts exercising jurisdiction in New South Wales.
b. RACP's relationship with the Sponsor will be that of independent contractor. Nothing in this agreement will be construed as creating a relationship of employment, agency, joint venture or partnership between the parties.
c. The Sponsor must not assign any right or novate any obligation under this agreement without the prior written consent of RACP, which must not be unreasonably withheld. RACP may assign its rights or novate its obligations under this agreement without obtaining the prior written consent of the Sponsor.
d. The Sponsor is liable for the actions or omissions of the Sponsor's personnel. RACP is not responsible in any way for the Sponsor's personnel.
e. Unless otherwise agreed in writing between RACP and the Sponsor, RACP will not pay any expenditure or costs incurred by the Sponsor in carrying out its obligations under this agreement, unless otherwise agreed in writing by RACP in advance. Any such agreed expenses will be charged at cost.
f. The parties acknowledge and agree that:
    i. this document constitutes the entire agreement of the parties about its subject matter;
    ii. neither party is bound by any representations, agreements, understandings, conditions, warranties or information made or given by a party (or on their behalf) related to the subject matter of this document except where expressly provided for in the written terms of this document;
    iii. if any representations related to the subject matter of this document, which are not expressly provided for in the written terms of this document have been made, they are now withdrawn;
    iv. any collateral contracts formed prior to the execution of this document are now terminated; and
    v. RACP is not bound by any terms and conditions contained in any document issued by the Sponsor.
g. Specifying anything in this agreement after the words "including", "includes" or "for example" or similar expressions does not limit what else might be included unless there is express wording to the contrary.
h. A right created under this agreement may not be waived or varied, except in writing signed by the parties which specifically refers to varying this agreement.
