ANZHNCS ASM 2025

Friday 29 – Sunday 31 August 2025

Adelaide Convention Centre,
Adelaide, South Australia

Shaping the Future of Head and Neck Cancer Treatment

INVITATION

Dear Colleagues,

We are very excited to invite you to join us for the 26th Australian and New Zealand Head and Neck Cancer Society's Annual Scientific Meeting (ANZHNCS ASM) to be held at the Adelaide Convention Centre from Friday 29 - Sunday 31 August 2025.

The theme of the Adelaide ASM is "Shaping the Future of Head and Neck Cancer Treatment".

Head and neck cancer has significant patient morbidity and mortality requiring complex multi-disciplinary care. This was the impetus for forming our society back in 1998 with the goal of promoting quality care for all head and neck cancer patients. The ASM brings us together to share our passion and expertise with the latest advances in the treatment of this terrible cancer. This is an exciting time for our patients with the emergence of new therapies such as immunotherapy, FLASH radiotherapy, de-escalation trials, new surgical technologies, and recognition of the importance of survivorship, improving surveillance, providing best supportive care, and improving the quality of life for our patients.

We have an exciting line up of invited keynote speakers who will share their expert knowledge and experience with us in Adelaide.

Professor Alexander Lin is the Morton M. Kligerman MD Endowed Professor and Vice Chair of Faculty Affairs in the Department of Radiation Oncology at the University of Pennsylvania.

Professor Joanne Patterson is the Chair of Speech & Language Therapy and Associate Dean for Research at the School of AHP and Nursing, University of Liverpool, UK.

Professor Vincent Vander Poorten is Professor of Otolaryngology Head and Neck Surgery and Section Head and Neck Oncologist at the University of Leuven.

Professor Danny Rischin is a medical oncologist/clinician researcher at the Peter MacCallum Cancer Centre and Professorial Fellow, Sir Peter MacCallum Department of Oncology, University of Melbourne.

The following sessions and debates at the ASM will inform and stimulate discussion for us: Shaping the future of head and neck cancer treatment, Latest on OPSCC management, Advanced skin cancers, Skull base cancers, The importance of prehabilitation and nutrition in outcomes of head and neck cancer, Changing treatment paradigms in head and neck cancer, Australian cancer nursing navigators and telehealth support, Oral cancer in the non smoking non drinking young patient, Managing recurrent and locally advanced cancers, The unknown head and neck primary, Management of head and neck cancer treatment related morbidity: Dental and facial, Does AI have a role in head and neck cancer management?, Psychosocial and financial impacts of head and neck cancer, Treatment de-escalation: Where are we at?, Putting the patient back together again and The changing face of surveillance. The final session on Sunday will be a highlight and not to be missed, as our keynote speakers address the "Future directions in the treatment of head and neck cancer".

The ANZHNCS ASM 2025 will include pre-meeting workshops on Wednesday 27 – Thursday 28 August 2025, including a Head and Neck Cadaveric Dissection Workshop convened by Dr Rowen Valentine, a Prehab to Rehab: Evidence versus Practicalities Workshop convened by Dr Lee Pryor and Tracey Nicholls in conjunction with keynote speaker Professor Jo Patterson, and an exciting opportunity for a tour of the new Australian Bragg Centre for Proton Therapy and Research organised by A/Prof Hien Le. Due to the popularity in Melbourne, the Jaw in a Day Workshop will also return for 2025, convened by Dr Felix Sim.

Adelaide is a welcoming city with excellent restaurants, wine bars, lovely walking trails along the River Torrens and parklands around the city. We have several three hat restaurants in Adelaide including Restaurant Botanic which was named Australia's Gourmet Traveller restaurant of the year in 2023. Spend a few days in Adelaide before or after the ASM to enjoy the vibrant restaurant scene, and visit the famous Kangaroo Island, Barossa Valley, McLaren Vale, and Adelaide Hills wine regions.

We look forward to seeing you at the ANZHNCS ASM 2025 to hear about the latest in head and neck cancer, to re-connect with colleagues, to make new connections and to enjoy the city of Adelaide.

Best wishes,

Professor Eng Ooi

AUSTRALIAN AND NEW ZEALAND HEAD & NECK CANCER SOCIETY (ANZHNCS)

Early in 1998, a number of head and neck oncologists from the disciplines of surgery, radiation oncology and medical oncology met in Sydney to discuss the feasibility of establishing a multidisciplinary head and neck cancer society. A working party was formed and following a number of meetings, invitations were sent to individuals in these three specialties to become foundation members of the Australian and New Zealand Head & Neck Cancer Society.

The initial business meeting was held on December 9, 1998 and at that time there were 60 foundation members. The Society adopted as its Constitution the Model Rules for Associations published by the Department of Fair Trading in NSW and the members agreed that their principal objectives would be to promote the practice of head and neck oncology, to educate medical colleagues and the public about our specialty, to foster research and to seek optimal treatment outcomes for our patients.

For more information, visit the ANZHNCS website: www.anzhnscs.org
