

Samantha Findley

Samantha Findley is Managing Director, Capital at Gordon Brothers.

Samantha oversees lending and investment opportunities across all industries in Australia and New Zealand and leads a team responsible for transactions throughout the structuring, execution and portfolio life cycle. She works closely with clients to monetize assets through recourse and non-recourse financing structures.

Samantha has 20 years of experience delivering tailor-made financial and restructuring solutions for businesses facing complex liquidity and operational challenges.

Prior to joining Gordon Brothers, Samantha led a national strategic business services team at National Australia Bank. Previously, she was an executive director at KordaMentha where she advised clients and stakeholders on financial and operational restructuring scenarios for some of Australia's most high-profile restructuring engagements.
