Why Sponsor HTAi 2027?

The HTAi Annual Meeting is the premier international gathering for professionals involved in health technology assessment and evidence-informed healthcare decision-making. Each year, researchers, policymakers, HTA agencies, government officials, industry leaders, patient representatives, clinicians, and health system interest holders come together to exchange knowledge, discuss emerging challenges, and shape the future of healthcare.

Sponsorship provides a unique opportunity to engage directly with a highly specialized international audience, increase brand visibility, demonstrate thought leadership, and support the advancement of equitable, sustainable, and evidence-based healthcare worldwide.

About the Theme: HTA in a Time of Transformation

Healthcare systems around the world are undergoing profound change. Advances in technology, increasing demands on healthcare services, evolving patient expectations, and growing pressure to ensure the long-term sustainability of health systems are reshaping the environment in which decisions are made.

The HTAi 2027 Annual Meeting will explore how health technology assessment is evolving to respond to these challenges. Discussions will focus on technological innovation, the growing importance of high-quality data, evolving evidence requirements, and the role of HTA in supporting resilient, sustainable, and patient-centred healthcare systems.

Bringing together leading experts and decision-makers from across the global HTA community, the meeting will provide a platform to share research, exchange experiences, strengthen partnerships, and explore how HTA can continue to support effective and equitable healthcare decision-making in a rapidly changing world.

Why Brussels?

Brussels sits at the heart of European health policy, regulation, and international collaboration, making it a uniquely relevant setting for discussions on the future of health technology assessment.

As health systems face increasing pressure to balance innovation, affordability, sustainability, and patient access, Brussels remains at the centre of many of the policy and regulatory developments influencing healthcare decision-making globally. The city provides an ideal environment for dialogue on how HTA can evolve to meet the needs of modern health systems.

The 2027 Annual Meeting is hosted in partnership with the Belgium Health Care Knowledge Centre (KCE) and the National Institute for Health and Disability Insurance (RIZIV/INAMI), with support from the Brussels Center for Collaboration in Health (BCCH), bringing together local expertise and international perspectives at a pivotal time for HTA.
