

Asian Development Bank and International Monetary Fund

Virtual Roundtable on Local Currency Bond Markets | 27 April 2022

THORDUR JONASSON

Deputy Division Chief
Debt Capital Market Division
Monetary and Capital Markets Department
International Monetary Fund

Mr. Thor Jonasson is a Deputy Division Chief in the Debt Capital Markets Division in the IMF Monetary and Capital Markets Department. Prior to joining the IMF, he worked for the World Bank on developing public and private debt markets and participating in the Financial Sector Assessment Program. His professional experience also includes the National Debt Management Agency in Iceland where he worked in different capacities until appointed Chief Executive. He has also held positions in the private sector as an advisor to multilateral institutions, municipalities and state-owned corporations on debt management, treasury operations and international funding. He has published on debt management and capital market development.