SEEKING YOUR FEEDBACK!

We're seeking your feedback - to help us make our next CAIP Forum even better!

Over the next 15 minutes, we have two individual feedback exercises:

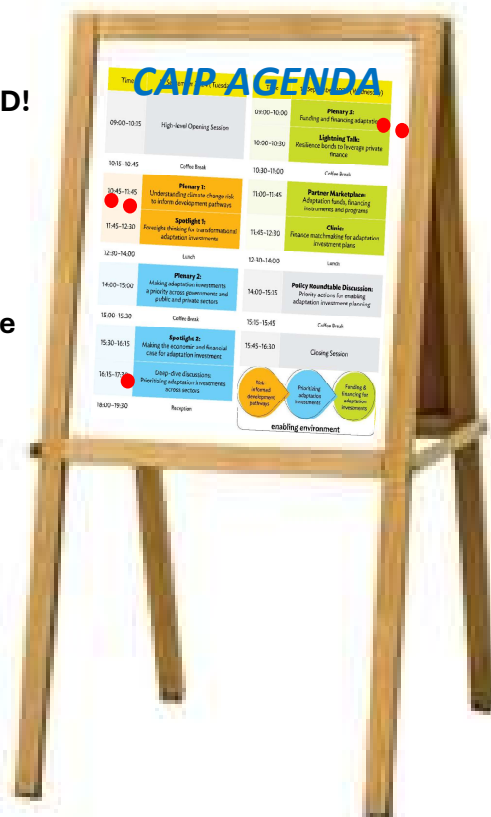

1 SHOW US WHAT YOU LIKED!

You have 5 stickers.

On the poster agenda displayed at the front of the room, please put your 5 stickers on the session/s you liked the most.

You can put all 5 stickers on one session, or spread them amongst the various sessions, whichever best reflects your experience.

2 SHARE US YOUR COMMENTS!

On your table you have post-it notes for any comments you'd like to share on the forum. We'd like to particularly know (i) what you liked, (ii) what could be improved, and (iii) what you'd like to see next year.

Please then come put them on the relevant 3 flip charts we have at the front of the room. (Don't worry, we're not looking!)

Climate Adaptation Investment Planning

A Program to Bridge the Gap between Climate Adaptation Planning and Financing

What Is the Climate Adaptation Investment Planning Program?

The Climate Adaptation Investment Planning (CAIP) Program is a regional program supporting developing member countries (DMCs) of the Asian Development Bank (ADB) in translating their national adaptation priorities for key sectors, as outlined in their national adaptation plans (NAPs) or nationally determined contributions (NDCs), into adaptation investment plan(s) that will identify a suite of priority adaptation investments needed to achieve the country's adaptation goals. Embedded within the medium-term planning and the economic and fiscal frameworks of the country, the adaptation investment plan(s) will support in mobilizing programmatic financing for implementing adaptation investments.

The CAIP Program is closely aligned with the directions of relevant global initiatives, such as the Adaptation Pipeline Accelerator championed by the United Nations Secretary General's Climate Action Team, the NAP Global Network that is managed by the International Institute for Sustainable Development, and the forthcoming work to develop a Climate Adaptation Investment Framework by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development. The succeeding box highlights the importance of the CAIP Program in ADB's climate adaptation initiatives.

Why Is the Climate Adaptation Investment Planning Program Important for Achieving ADB's Climate Ambition?

The Asian Development Bank (ADB) has set ambitious targets for climate actions, including to channel at least US$34 billion of climate adaptation finance from 2019 to 2030.^{*} This requires ADB to engage with its developing member countries at three levels: (i) upstream in the adaptation planning process to identify priority investments, (ii) midstream to integrate adaptation investments into country medium-term planning and budgeting processes, and (iii) downstream to undertake appraisal of priority adaptation investments to make them investment-ready. The Climate Adaptation Investment Planning Program provides opportunities for such engagement and, thereby, can support developing member countries to receive strengthened assistance from ADB on climate adaptation.
