

SPEAKER PROFILE

Alvin Mejia

.....
Co-team Lead
Asian Transport Observatory

Alvin Mejia is dedicated towards advancing sustainable transport in developing regions. He currently serves as the Co-team leader of the Asian Transport Outlook (ATO) Project, an initiative supported by the ADB and the Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB). He is also serving as a senior adviser to the Urban Electric Mobility Initiative. Previously, he worked as a senior researcher for the Wuppertal Institute for Climate, Environment, and Energy, and as Program Manager of the Sustainable Transport Program at Clean Air Asia. He holds a master's degree in Transport Management from the University of Sydney, and a master's degree in Environment Management from Miriam College.

