Chaorin Shim

Principal Transport Specialist
Transport Sector Office
Asian Development Bank

Chaorin is a Principal Transport Specialist at the Transport Sector Office of ADB. With 20 years of experience in infrastructure and urban development across public and private sectors, she oversees the strategic direction of ADB's transport portfolio in the Philippines and Thailand. Over the past 10 years, Chaorin has been leading the design and execution of flagship projects addressing complex development challenges across both sovereign and non-sovereign operations within ADB. Public-Private Partnership has remained a central element of her professional journey, allowing her to align public objectives with private sector expertise and deliver effective infrastructure solutions amid evolving market conditions. Chaorin holds a master's degree in Urbanization and Development from the London School of Economics and Political Science.
