

Marco Loretto

European Investment Bank

Marco Loretto has been working in criminal and administrative investigations for over 30 years.

After spending 11 years as financial investigator in Italy working in the national law enforcement, he has been working for the United Nations and eventually for the International Criminal Court as investigators for arms trafficking and illicit exploitation of natural resources.

He joined the European Investment Bank in 2010, where is working as Head of Investigations and Exclusion Unit.

