

SPEAKER PROFILE

Josephine Ong

Vice President, Cities & Public Services
Dassault Systèmes

Josephine is committed to helping cities achieve resiliency and inclusivity. As Vice President for Cities & Public Services at Dassault Systèmes, she works closely with governments worldwide to design and implement strategies that address climate adaptation, economic progress and citizen engagement. With a deep passion for equitable citizen liveability, Josephine is often at the intersection of public sector and their ecosystems, bridging the gap between project requirements and technology, helping cities to capitalize on the right technology that will enable them to thrive under pressure and adapt with purpose.
