SPEAKER PROFILE

Fortunato Sanchez

Manager
Doppelmayr Philippines

Fortunato O. Sanchez Jr. is a seasoned civil engineer with over four decades of experience in engineering practice, project management, and business leadership. He holds a Bachelor's degree in Civil Engineering from the University of San Carlos and a Master's degree in Civil Engineering from Stanford University. A licensed professional engineer in both the Philippines and California, he has held senior roles across multiple engineering and construction firms, including serving as President of Socor Construction Corporation and Pulcher Realty Corporation, and General Manager of Integrated Geotechnical Systems. He is also Manager of Doppelmayr SRO Philippines. Actively engaged in the professional community, he is a long-standing member of organizations such as the Philippine Institute of Civil Engineers and the Transportation Science Society of the Philippines.