SPEAKER PROFILE

Johanna Zilliacus

Consultant
Asian Development Bank

Johanna Zilliacus is a development professional with more than 15 years of experience in the fields of climate finance, climate policy and low carbon development. She works as a consultant for ADB's Emerging Areas, Transport Sector Office, supporting transport decarbonization-related initiatives. Beyond ADB, she has worked and consulted for a vast range of organizations, including UNDP, Green Climate Fund and Nordic Development Fund. She holds a M.Sc. in Economics and Business Administration, and is currently studying a second master's degree in social inclusion, with a specialization in gender studies.