

Katherine Kyriakopoulos

International Monetary Fund

Katherine Kyriakopoulos has over 19 years of experience investigating matters involving fraud, corruption, retaliation, and other workplace conduct issues. Serving as Senior Investigator at the International Monetary Fund's Office of Internal Investigations (IMF OII) since 2018, Katherine is responsible for supervising and leading administrative investigations. Katherine is also currently leading the development of a newly revised Protection Against Retaliation Policy to strengthen existing mechanisms for addressing retaliation claims at IMF.

Her previous work experience includes the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA) and the Australian Public Service, namely the New South Wales (NSW) Crime Commission, NSW Police Force, and NSW Independent Commission against Corruption. Katherine is an accredited Equal Employment Opportunity Investigator, Workplace Mediator and Trainer, and holds a BA and Master's degree in Criminology.

