

Conor Donaldson
Chief Executive Officer
Global Asia Insurance Partnership

Conor is the CEO of the Global Asia Insurance Partnership (GAIP), a tripartite partnership between academia, the global insurance industry, regulators and policymakers to support the future development and needs of the insurance sector.

Before GAIP, Conor was a member of the senior management team at the International Association of Insurance Supervisors (IAIS) with responsibility for deepening understanding and observance of the IAIS' supervisory material. Conor initiated assessment programmes, built strategic partnerships with multilateral development banks and technical assistance providers in support of capacity building and supervisory development worked with supervisors to advance financial inclusion. During his time at the IAIS, Conor was also a board member of the Access to Insurance Initiative, a multilateral partnership between the development community and insurance supervisors, the Toronto Centre's Advisory Board for Insurance and Pensions, and represented the IAIS in global forums looking at standards implementation.