GIORGI CHINCHALADZE

Risk Manager

Financial Markets Department, Risk Management and Control Division

National Bank of Georgia

Giorgi Chinchaladze is a seasoned risk management professional with over 11 years of experience spanning central banking and commercial finance. He currently serves as the Acting Head of the Risk Management and Control Division at the National Bank of Georgia, where he oversees market, credit, and liquidity risks. His responsibilities include ensuring compliance with investment policies and risk limits, contributing to strategic asset allocation (SAA), and delivering performance and risk exposure reports to key decision-making committees.

Giorgi began his career at the National Bank of Georgia as a Risk Manager and later advanced to Senior Risk Manager, focusing on credit risk and SAA. He then transitioned to the commercial banking sector, holding roles such as Model Risk Senior Auditor at Bank of Georgia and Head of Enterprise Credit Risk Management at TBC Bank. He returned to the National Bank of Georgia as Chief Risk Manager before assuming his current leadership role.

Mr. Chinchaladze holds both a Bachelor's and a Master's degree in Business Administration, with a specialization in Quantitative Finance, from Georgian American University.
