

People's problems. People's solutions. Through the People's Process.

- Make people as owners, not as recipients
- Trust people and their capacities
- Avoid resettlement where possible and if unavoidable make more efforts of community mobilization and federate groups to have them shareholders of the project
- Acknowledge indigenous knowledge and build solutions
- Grievances and disputes are best solved by people themselves, to enable processes internally
- Never take away livelihood places far from their homes
- Participatory decision-making has to be devolved to the point of action
- Empowerment through social mobilization
