

Sally Fox

Food and Agriculture Organization

Sally Fox is an Investigator and Team Leader with the Office of the Inspector General (OIG) of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO). Ms Fox comes from a legal academic background, holds a masters degree in Conflict Management and Resolution and is a CFE. Furthermore, she is a solicitor admitted to practice at the Supreme Court of New South Wales (Australia).

Ms Fox began her career with the UN at the World Food Program working in the legal office, before making the switch to investigations at FAO. Ms Fox has experience in investigating a wide variety of matters, with a particular focus on sexual harassment/sexual exploitation and abuse. She has lived and worked in China, Taiwan, and Zambia, before moving to Rome ten years ago. Outside of work, Ms Fox is a mother to two boys and enjoys running marathons, having completed ten in the last four years.

