Elco Koks

Associate Professor
Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam

Elco Koks is an Associate Professor within the Water and Climate Risk group at the Institute for Environmental Studies (Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam). He leads a research group that works on the interplay of critical infrastructure risk modelling, network analysis, climate adaptation and economic impact analysis. He is the project coordinator of the Horizon Europe MIRACA (Multi-Hazard Infrastructure Risk Assessment for Climate Adaptation) project, and is involved in multiple other European consortia, in which he leads research on infrastructure risk & resilience modelling. He has been a contributing author to the latest IPCC WG2 report, and lead author of the Critical Infrastructure chapter in the latest European Climate Risk Assessment (EUCRA) report. Moreover, he is currently leading multiple country-level transport risk and resilience studies for the Asian Development Bank.
