

SPEAKER PROFILE

Ravi Gadepalli

.....
Founder
Transit Intelligence LLLP

Dr. Ravi Gadepalli is the founder of Transit Intelligence, a public transport advisory firm that specializes in urban mobility planning, public transport service design and e-bus transition. He also works as an independent consultant with the Asian Development Bank and the World Bank. Ravi's expertise lies in public transport service planning, electrification, financing, paratransit reform, route network design and service scheduling. His recent work includes support to mobilise ~USD 500m in multilateral financing for bus service reform and e-bus transition across India, Bangladesh and Pakistan; inputs to Government of India's aggregated procurement of ~20,000 e-buses and establishing India's first Public Transport Service Contract (PTSC). He has 18 yrs of professional experience with a PhD in public transport from the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Delhi and was a Chevening Fellow from University of Oxford in 2024.

