Manager - Southern Region Aviation | QBE Insurance

Jenna Davies is the Southern Region Manager within QBE Aviation's underwriting team. QBE provides aviation insurance solutions across Australia, New Zealand, South-East Asia and the Pacific, with a strong focus on the general aviation sector. With more than 65 years' involvement in the industry, QBE is the largest aviation insurer in Australasia, helping protect the aircraft, operations and legal liabilities that underpin aviation businesses. Its experienced underwriting and claims teams combine local market knowledge, disciplined portfolio management and responsive claims support to help customers recover from incidents and continue operating with confidence.

Jenna started flying at 16, is a licensed commercial pilot, holds a Bachelor's Degree in Aviation, and has more than 15 years' experience at QBE. She brings together practical flying experience and deep technical expertise across general aviation underwriting, portfolio management and complex aviation liability exposures. In her current role, she applies both underwriting discipline and operational insight to support brokers, clients, claims specialists and industry partners in developing considered insurance solutions for an increasingly complex operating environment.

She also plays an active role in strengthening QBE Aviation's engagement with the broader aviation industry, including its relationship with the Aerial Application Association of Australia. Through this work, Jenna supports a sector that contributes significantly to agriculture, firefighting, pest and weed control, emergency management and Australia's sustainable future. Her perspective is shaped by the understanding that, in a changing world, her role is about anticipating risk, building adaptive capability and supporting the industries that keep communities, supply chains and essential services moving.

Drawing on her aviation and insurance experience, Jenna brings a grounded, relationship-led perspective to client engagement, underwriting strategy, risk management, portfolio performance and the development of technical capability across the team.
