

ADDAM CORALLO

PhD Student | ARC Training Centre in
Plant Biosecurity

Addam Corallo is a PhD student working with the Plant Biosecurity Training Centre, in collaboration University of Canberra, AUSVEG, and Agriculture Victoria. His Research aims to develop and optimise irrigation water sampling techniques to aid in the monitoring and surveillance of plant pathogens in vegetable crops.