

Dr Belinda Cruse

Dr Cruse completed her medical degree at the University of NSW in 2006 and completed her Neurology training at the Royal North Shore Hospital in Sydney. She undertook initial subspeciality training in Movement Disorders at Westmead Hospital, and further subspecialty training in Clinical Neurophysiology and Neuromuscular medicine at the Royal Melbourne Hospital. Belinda continues to work at the Royal Melbourne Hospital as a Consultant Neurologist and Neurophysiologist.