

DR NARELLE MOORE

CEO | Australian Crop Breeders

Dr Narelle Moore is the inaugural CEO of Australian Crop Breeders.

A respected leader in the Australian grains industry, Narelle brings a unique combination of technical depth and strategic insight to the organisation.

With more than 20 years' experience covering research and development, plant breeding, grain quality, marketing and industry representation, she has held senior positions with CBH Group, GRDC and NSW DPIRD, and was Executive Officer of Chickpea Breeding Australia.

As she leads ACB into its next chapter, Narelle is passionate about advocating for a strong and resilient crop breeding sector that delivers ongoing value to ACB members and Australian grain growers.