DR ATUL SHARMA

Resident Medical Officer, South West Sydney Local Health District and Emerging Associate, NSC

Atul Sharma is a medical doctor working in South West Sydney and a Conjoint Associate Lecturer with the University of New South Wales School of Medicine.

He previously worked with a Cabinet Minister in the Australian Parliament House, as part of the Australian National Internship Program, and was a cofounder of the ANU Democracy Society, a non-partisan student society discussing democratic values and how to sustain and strengthen democracy.