

PROFESSOR ALAN GAMLEN

ARC Futures Fellow and Director of the
ANU Migration Hub

Alan Gamlen is a social scientist specialising in large-scale interdisciplinary comparative research using quantitative and qualitative research methods. He is the Founding Director of the ANU Migration Hub and a Professor in the School of Regulation and Global Governance at ANU. He has worked on issues of human migration, mobility, and identity for two decades and held related appointments at Oxford University (where he received his doctorate), Stanford University, the Max Planck Society, the Japan Centre for Area Studies, Monash University and Wellington University in his homeland, New Zealand. In 2010-2020 he was Founding Editor-in-Chief of the journal Migration Studies \(Oxford University Press\).

In 2016-17 he was Director of the Australian Population and Migration Research Centre. He advises many migration-related international organizations, governments, service providers, and NGOs. He is currently an Australian Research Council Future Fellow and a member of the ARC College of Experts. Alan is a member of the Tainui confederation of Māori tribes in Aotearoa-New Zealand.