Themes

Your presentation proposals should align with one or more of the following themes:

- Advances in assessment, mediation, remediation, and long-term harm prevention.
- Advocacy and change
- Best practice in future research.
- Centring lived experience and professional engagement under the principle "Nothing About Us Without Us."
- Children's rights, developmental needs, and intersections with family law.
- Connections between PA, family and domestic violence, and shared parenting.
- Countering misinformation and misrepresentation.
- Evidence-based interventions and practical solutions.
- Harnessing the power of digital platforms and activism to drive change.
- Innovative and effective advocacy strategies.
- Public policy, human rights and the law
- Socioeconomic, cultural, and health impacts of Parental Alienation.
- Strengthening advocacy through first-hand accounts and survivor-informed practice.
- Targeted Families and Adult Alienated Children's forum.
- The child in court and mental health, assessment and remediation practice.

- The role of policy, legislation, and anti-PA frameworks in both local and global contexts.

Presentation Category

The organising committee is encouraging presentation proposals from a wide audience of participants.

Submissions will be reviewed, and the committee will nominate the best delivery format for your presentation based on the conference program.
