

Panel: Creating a World Class City Campus

Alex Lawlor (University of Melbourne), Finola Reid (Arup), Hazel Porter

Finola Reid, Principal at Arup, is the VIC/SA Office Leader and Australasian Regional Education Leader. Finola has over 25 years' international consulting experience managing and leading multi-disciplinary teams on a wide range of educational projects.

Finola's collaborative approach allows her, as Regional Education Business Leader, to maintain and develop strong relationships with key stakeholders in the market. She has worked extensively with local, regional & global universities, to help deliver exemplary tertiary projects.

A champion of creative and collaborative design solutions, Finola regularly assumes a hands-on role with projects, advocating the sharing of knowledge, experience and expertise amongst her global education peers to help deliver forward thinking, pragmatic solutions for her clients.

An architect with over 18 years' experience, Hazel is involved with projects which transfer knowledge and research across typologies. Her architectural and masterplanning expertise combine through an uncommon diversity of projects which extends across commercial, residential, lifestyle, and education developments. She is committed when it comes to problem solving, testing and retesting to resolve design issues, challenging conventional and technical boundaries while working within the framework of the client brief and statutory controls to deliver sustainable project outcomes.

Hazel believes strongly in keeping the people she's designing for at the heart of the process. With a communication style that is clear and consultative, she holds the design's quality and integrity through all phases in her leadership of a project, from concept visioning to on-site construction.

Alex Lawlor, University of Melbourne