Invitation from the CAUTHE Conference Organising Committee

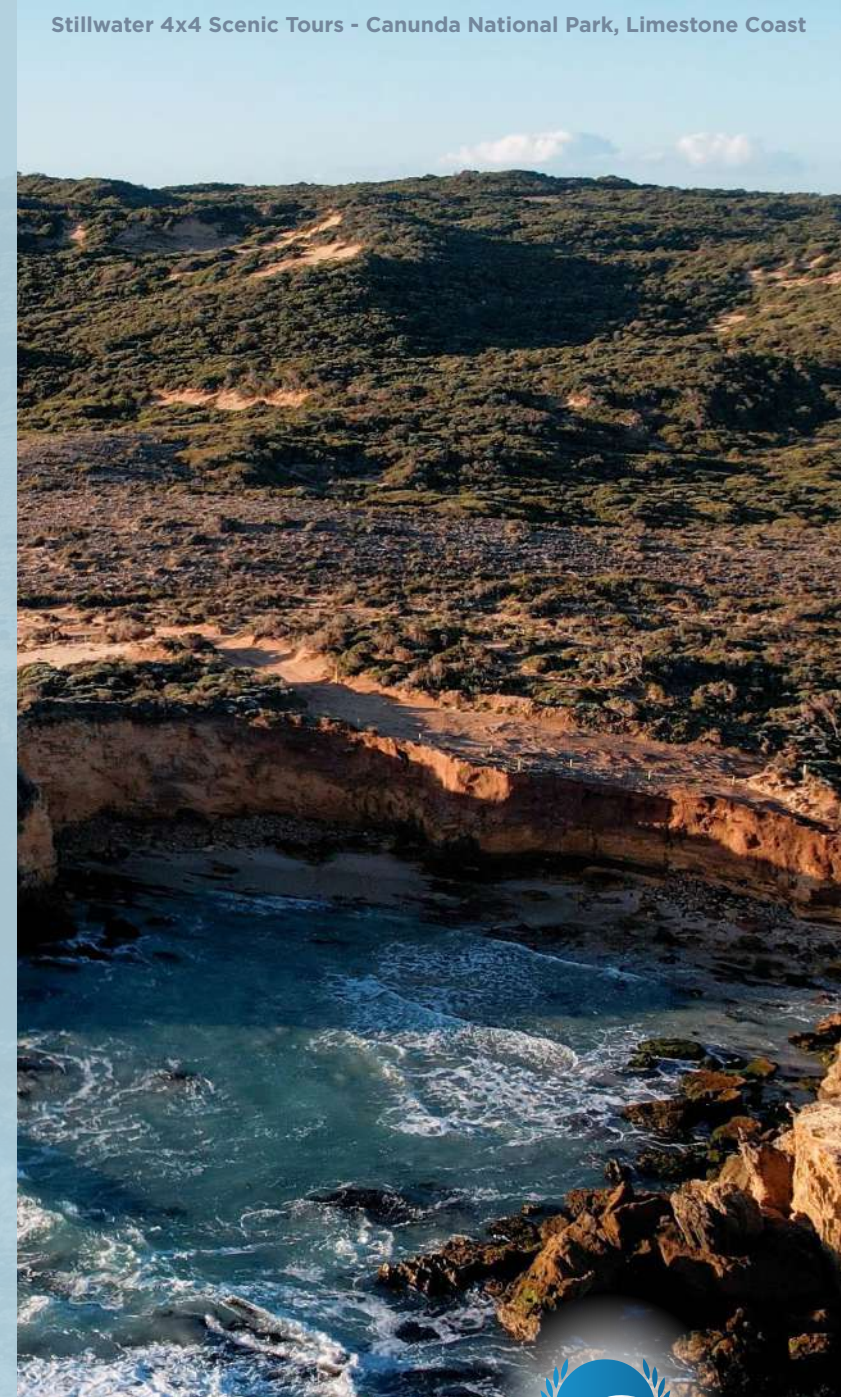

On behalf of the CAUTHE 2026 Conference Organising Committee, we are delighted to invite your organisation to consider sponsorship opportunities for the 2026 Council for Australasian Tourism and Hospitality Education (CAUTHE) Conference. This annual event is the premier academic conference for tourism, hospitality, and events (TH&E) scholars and professionals in the Australasian region and will be held from Tuesday, 10 February to Thursday, 12 February 2026, in Adelaide, South Australia.

The CAUTHE Conference provides an outstanding platform for leading academics, researchers, and industry professionals to engage in meaningful discussions, share innovative research, and forge strong collaborations. The event attracts delegates from Australia, New Zealand, and beyond, offering unparalleled networking and knowledge-sharing opportunities.

Rooted in the theme of “Cultivating Cohesion and Connection through Tourism, Hospitality, and Events”, the 2026 conference will delve into the transformative role of these industries in bridging societal divides, fostering inclusive growth, and championing sustainability on a local and global scale. With its deep-rooted community spirit, pioneering sustainability efforts, and dynamic tourism and hospitality sector, Adelaide and the broader South Australia provides an ideal setting for this dialogue.

We invite you to explore the sponsorship benefits outlined in this prospectus, which provide numerous opportunities for brand exposure, engagement, and alignment with thought leadership in TH&E education and research. We look forward to welcoming you to Adelaide in 2026.

Message from Host University

The Blue Mountains International Hotel Management School (BMIHMS) at Torrens University Australia is Australia's leading hotel management school, renowned for its immersive, industry-focused education and global reputation for excellence. For over 30 years, BMIHMS has been developing future leaders in hospitality and tourism through a transformative curriculum that integrates academic rigour, practical experience, and personal and professional development. With deep industry and policy connections, BMIHMS bridges academic knowledge with real-world application, driving innovation and shaping the future of the sector.

Through its Tourism and Hospitality Research and Practice Cluster (THRP), BMIHMS is committed to tackling contemporary challenges in sustainable tourism, workforce education, leadership, technology, and inclusion. We are honoured to bring together national and international thought leaders for this critical discussion on the future of our industries.

The CAUTHE 2026 Conference, hosted by BMIHMS, builds on this strong foundation by bringing together academics, industry professionals, policymakers, and community leaders in a collaborative dialogue. This premier event will foster meaningful discussions and partnerships, encouraging innovative, sustainable, and inclusive solutions in tourism, hospitality, and events.

We warmly welcome you to Adelaide in 2026, a city where innovation meets heritage, where globally renowned festivals, world-class dining, and stunning landscapes create a vibrant setting for intellectual and professional engagement. As a hub for sustainability and diversity, Adelaide offers the perfect environment for this conference, ensuring an experience that is insightful, engaging, and impactful.

We look forward to collaborating with our valued sponsors and partners.

Conference Theme

Cultivating Cohesion and Connection through Tourism, Hospitality, and Events

In an era of increasing societal fragmentation, tourism, hospitality, and events play a crucial role in fostering cohesion and connection. The CAUTHE 2026 Conference will explore how these industries can contribute to sustainable development, inclusive growth, and stronger communities.

This theme is particularly relevant to Adelaide and South Australia, a region known for its collaborative spirit, diverse cultural fabric, and commitment to sustainability.

Sub-themes:

- Tourism development and destinations
- Services and experiences
- Research and teaching nexus
- Academia and industry nexus
- Human health, wellbeing, and flourishing
- Workforce competencies, employment, and leadership
- Diversity, equity, and inclusion for marginalised populations
- Tourism, culture and heritage
- Sustainable and regenerative tourism, hospitality, and events
- Community development
- Technology for connection
- Mobility and International perspectives
- Entrepreneurship and start-up culture
- Research methodologies for engagement
- Other suitable topics

We invite sponsors to be part of this transformative conversation as we shape the future of tourism, hospitality, and events.

Conference Dinner Sponsor

Exclusive Opportunity $10,000

The CAUTHE 2026 Conference Dinner, themed “A Taste of South Australia fair” is designed as a communal and participative experience, reflecting the conference’s focus on cohesion, sustainability, and community connection. Hosted at Ondeen Farm in the Adelaide Hills, an award-winning venue deeply rooted in local produce, regenerative practices, and shared dining experiences, this event invites delegates to engage in a genuine celebration of South Australian food, culture, and community.

Chef Kane Pollard, creative director of Ondeen Farm, is renowned for his sustainable, locally driven, and innovative culinary approach. Raised in a market gardening family in the Adelaide Hills, he champions seasonal, low-waste cooking that supports local agriculture. His philosophy fosters community engagement, connecting diners with the land and sustainable practices. By blending traditional techniques with modern innovation, he crafts dishes that are both cutting-edge and deeply rooted in South Australian heritage - perfectly embodying the themes of CAUTHE 2026.
