David Wilson*, Manager, Cleaning, Waste and Recycling, Australian National University*

David has over 18 years' experience in Facilities Management roles within the Tertiary Education Sector including over 10 years managing cleaning and waste contracts at two of Australia's leading universities. He commenced his current role with ANU in April 2012.

Are you throwing money away?

With over 10 years' experience in managing waste contracts I thought, there must be a better way. How do you verify you are getting the service you are paying for? How do you get accurate data for reporting purposes? The answer is "Pay as you throw" weight based charging.