Senzo Dlamini

Director, Public Policy
Mastercard

Senzo Dlamini leads public policy in Southern Africa at Mastercard. He is responsible for all engagement with key stakeholders in government, policy makers and regulators. He is responsible for carrying Mastercard's relationships with ecosystem players in payments and beyond, and partnering to enable important government initiatives that drive financial inclusion.

Senzo joined Mastercard in 2019 from UnionPay International to lead the Network Strategy area where he was responsible for understanding the evolution of local and regional networks within Southern Africa to support innovation in payments technology and enabling more financial inclusion.

In 2021, Senzo moved to lead the Public Policy area to deepen Mastercard's engagement with the ecosystem on matters of policy development to further support innovation and financial inclusion.

Prior to Mastercard, Senzo worked at China UnionPay, MoneyGram International and HewlettPackard in various roles with a focus around sales, marketing, and business leadership. Senzo holds an MBA from the Gordon Institute of Business Science (Gibs) and a BCom Finance degree from the University of the Witwatersrand. He is a South African national who grew up in a port-town of Richards Bay.
